

PATRICIA PICCININI CURIOUS AFFECTION ON TOUR

SECONDARY TEACHER NOTES

ABOUT THE EXHIBITION

'Patricia Piccinini: Curious Affection on Tour' invites us into an alternative world where nature and technology, humans and animals, fact and fiction all mix and intermingle in ways that are both strange and wonderful.

ABOUT THE ARTIST'S PRACTICE

Patricia Piccinini uses a range of different media to explore concepts such as agency, responsibility and acceptance. The contexts of her works — whether they be real-world relationships or fantastic stories and fables — focus on human thoughts and responses to change and difference. By drawing on our past and present relationships, Piccinini constructs scenarios to encourage us to engage with the grey areas of life and humanity — areas which are often complex and confronting, particularly as we move into the future.

For Piccinini, the art-making process begins with research and drawing. She then works with a team of fabricators and technicians who use a range of specialist techniques to create the incredibly lifelike appearance of her creatures.

I've always been interested in the definition of what we consider natural and what we consider artificial and what changes that definition — things like innovation in medical technology — and so that is why I tend to be inspired and tend to respond to what happens in the world.

Patricia Piccinini, quoted in V Were, 'A matter of transformation', Art News NZ, summer 2007, p.60.

ABOUT THE RESOURCE

Three themes — fabulation, empathy and wonderment — introduce the artworks and concepts in 'Curious Affection on Tour'. Students can explore these themes in more depth using the points of engagement outlined below.

QUEENSLAND CURRICULUM SENIOR SYLLABUS

VISUAL ART

Art as Lens:

Interpret visual communication and meaning in artworks through personal and contemporary contexts and consider how artists' viewpoints and representations challenge audience perspectives.

Art as Code:

Explore how artworks are capable of expressing complex ideas by foregrounding the formal and cultural contexts, and consider how visual language, symbol systems and art conventions can be used to convey meaning.

Art as Knowledge:

Consider how art knowledge can be constructed — knowledge that challenges perceptions, presents alternative futures, and is intellectually engaging — or can be imaginative — knowledge that can entertain, invent, encapsulate the human condition — and what knowledge an artist uses to inform their art practice.

Art as Alternate:

Consider twenty-first century ideas and issues, and the roles and interaction between artist and audience. Explore how contemporary approaches with materials and new technologies impact the sensory experience and engagement with art.

Perspectives and texts:

Explore individual and/or collective experiences of the world and examine how perspectives and representations of concepts, identities and groups are constructed.

Texts and culture:

Examine the relationship between language and identity, and purpose and audience, and the way this reveals cultural assumptions, attitudes, values and beliefs.

Textual connections:

Explore connections between art and text by examining representations of the same concepts and issues. Consider the personal, social, historical and cultural significance of representations and analyse different perspectives.

Close study of literary texts:

Investigate innovative and imaginative uses of language that challenge ideas and conventions.
