16 September 2009

The Honourable Anna Bligh, MP
Premier of Queensland and Minister for the Arts
PO Box 15185
City East Qld 4002

Dear Premier

I am pleased to present the Annual Report 2008–09 for the Queensland Art Gallery.

I certify that this Annual Report complies with:

• the prescribed requirements of the Financial Accountability and Audit Act 1977 and the Financial Management Standard 1997, and

• the detailed requirements set out in the Annual Reporting Guidelines for Queensland Government Agencies.

A checklist outlining the annual reporting requirements can be accessed at www.qag.qld.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

Professor John Hay, AC
Chair, Board of Trustees

GALLERY PROFILE

Originally established in 1895, the Queensland Art Gallery opened in its present South Bank premises in June 1982. In late 2006, the Gallery became a two-site institution, with the opening of the Gallery of Modern Art (GoMA). Situated at Kurilpa Point only 150 metres from the Queensland Art Gallery building, the Gallery of Modern Art focuses on the art of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. This year, a major refurbishment of selected gallery spaces was completed at the Queensland Art Gallery. Funded by the Queensland Government, the refurbishment represents the first significant upgrade since the building opened 27 years ago. The Gallery’s driving philosophy is to connect art and people. Since 1982, more than 13 million people have visited, and this year attendances for the Queensland Art Gallery and Gallery of Modern Art totalled 1 153 326.

With the opportunities presented by the expanded and upgraded facilities of a two-site institution, the Gallery’s Collection, exhibitions, audiences and programs have grown in scale, complexity and diversity. The Gallery presents a dynamic program of exhibitions and events, complemented by interpretive public programs and publishing. Working closely with key corporate and tourism sector partners, the Gallery continues to build a profile as a significant cultural tourism destination in the region.

The Gallery’s Collection, including the internationally recognised contemporary Asian and Pacific collection, now includes 13 743 works, with 579 works acquired in 2008–09. Works from the Collection, including major new acquisitions, feature strongly in the exhibitions program.

The Gallery’s engagement with the Asia Pacific region continues with the ongoing activities of the Australian Centre of Asia Pacific Art (ACAPA), and the Asia Pacific Triennial series of exhibitions. The Gallery also profiles the artistic practice and cultural life of Indigenous Australia through its Collection, exhibitions and programs.

The Queensland Art Gallery Foundation provides vital support to the Gallery, supporting the development of the Collection and the presentation of exhibition programs. This year was particularly significant for the Foundation, with the celebration during 2009 of its 30th anniversary.

The Children’s Art Centre develops and presents programs for children, young people and families, and the Gallery is recognised as an international leader in presenting innovative museum-based learning programs for children. The Gallery also presents a comprehensive educational program, serving schools, universities and the broader education sector.

VISION
Increase quality of life for all Queenslanders through enhanced access, understanding and enjoyment of the visual arts and develop Queensland’s reputation as a culturally dynamic state.

MISSION
To be the focus for the visual arts in Queensland and a dynamic and accessible art museum of international standing.

The Australian Cinémathèque is integral to the Gallery’s programming. Launched in 2005, the Cinémathèque is the only one of its kind in an Australian art museum. The Cinémathèque collects, conserves, presents and interprets film and screen culture.

Travelling exhibitions, educational services and professional development opportunities are provided to regional and remote Queensland through the Gallery’s Regional Services program. The Queensland Art Gallery is the only state gallery to provide an ongoing and comprehensive program of Collection-based travelling exhibitions and public programs to regional areas as part of its core business.

STRATEGIC PLAN 2008–13
The Gallery’s Strategic Plan 2008–13 is based on the following five goals.

TWO SITES, ONE VISION
To consolidate the Gallery’s profile as a two-site institution following the opening of GoMA in December 2006, while developing and promoting the strengths of each building’s curatorial and programming focus to audiences.

CULTURAL TOURISM
To secure significant international exhibitions exclusive to Queensland and increase the profile of the Gallery as a cultural tourism destination for local, intrastate, interstate and international visitors.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT
To develop, manage and conserve the Collection to the highest art museum standards for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future users.

ACCESSIBILITY AND EDUCATION
To provide access to exhibitions, educational services and interpretive programs of excellence to diverse audiences, with particular attention to children and young people, Indigenous Australians and regional Queenslanders.

ENGAGEMENT WITH THE ASIA PACIFIC REGION
To strengthen the Gallery’s ties with the Asia Pacific region through initiatives such as the Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art and the Australian Centre of Asia Pacific Art, as well as the development of the Gallery’s renowned contemporary Asian and Pacific collections.
HIGHLIGHTS AND ACHIEVEMENTS

The Queensland Art Gallery (QAG) and Gallery of Modern Art (GoMA) attracted 1,153,326 visitors during the year. Audience surveys reflected 94 per cent satisfaction with this year’s exhibitions.

EXHIBITIONS

‘Picasso & his collection’ ended its exclusive-to-Brisbane season in September 2008. With a total attendance of 206,580, critical acclaim and strong support from visitors to the city, the exhibition continued to define the Gallery’s strength as a cultural tourism destination.

In partnership with The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and Art Exhibitions Australia, the Gallery presented a second exclusive international exhibition this year — ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’ (30 May – 20 September 2009). In its first month, the exhibition attracted daily average attendances of 1000 and audience satisfaction of 95 per cent.

‘The China Project’ (28 March – 28 June 2009) was a three-part exhibition project. ‘Three Decades: The Contemporary Chinese Collection’ brought together works from the Gallery’s internationally significant collection of contemporary Chinese art. In focusing on the contemporary art of just one country in the region, the exhibition gave key works a fresh context. ‘The China Project’ also presented the first solo exhibition in Australia of work by Zhang Xiaogang, and a site-specific commission by respected photographer and performer William Yang.

The Gallery launched the first in a new triennial series of contemporary Australian art exhibitions. ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ showed at GoMA (15 November 2008 – 2 February 2009) and, through a Queensland Art Gallery Foundation Appeal, the Gallery acquired 17 works from important mid-career and emerging Australian artists included in the exhibition.

The Queensland Government funded a $2 million refurbishment program at the Queensland Art Gallery. The refurbished galleries, with new lighting infrastructure and flooring, reopened for ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’.

The Premier of Queensland’s National New Media Art Award and New Media Scholarship was launched on 31 October 2008. Queensland artist Peter Alwast won the inaugural award, and emerging Queensland new media artist Leah Barclay was awarded the first scholarship. The award exhibition (1 November 2008 – 8 February 2009) gave audiences access to some of the most innovative and technically sophisticated art being made in Australia today. The award is the most significant for new media in Australia.

COLLECTIONS

The programming opportunities provided by two sites supported a substantial program of exhibitions based on the Gallery’s own Collection, including many new acquisitions.

The Gallery’s internationally significant collection of contemporary Chinese art was recognised and celebrated in ‘The China Project’ and documented with a 312-page exhibition catalogue.

Important international contemporary acquisitions, including works by Candice Breitz, William Eggleston, Tobias Putrih, Beat Streuli and Yvonne Todd, were acquired with the exceptional support of Queensland Art Gallery Deputy Chair of Trustees and Foundation President Tim Fairfax, AM, and Gina Fairfax. In recognition of their generosity, Gallery 1.1 at GoMA was this year named The Fairfax Gallery.

An important work by Matthew Smith, one of the great British colourists, was generously gifted to the international collection by longstanding supporter Philip Bacon, AM. Galleries 7, 8 and 9 at the Queensland Art Gallery were this year named the Philip Bacon Galleries, in recognition of support provided to the Gallery over recent years.

The complete list of acquisitions is published in the Appendixes, pages 46–58.
CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE
A two-day conference celebrated the Gallery’s decade of programming for young audiences. Art is for Everyone: Programming for Children and Families in the Art Museum, on 16 and 17 January 2009, was attended by local, regional, interstate and international delegates.

REGIONAL SERVICES
Regional Queensland communities enjoyed a record level of travelling exhibitions and public programs from the Gallery. Five diverse exhibitions were on the road during the year, and four different public programs were presented in regional venues. For the first time, regional programs included a lecture tour associated with one of the Gallery’s major international exhibitions — in this case, ‘Picasso & his collection’. 79 363 people visited this year’s exhibitions in regional Queensland. Regional exhibitions and programs made a total of 85 venue visits.

Travelling exhibitions toured a range of works from the Gallery’s Collection: watercolours by Australian modernist painter Kenneth Macqueen, figurative bronze sculptures, works by Indigenous artists of the Hermannsburg School, and works from the contemporary Asian and Pacific collections. Concluding a popular 12-venue tour this year was the white lego interactive art work The cubic structural evolution project 2004, by acclaimed contemporary Danish artist Olafur Eliasson.

In January, 3908 people took part in Kids: Contemporary Australia on Tour, a day of free activities for children and families at 30 participating venues around Queensland.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS
In addition to innovative and engaging public programs presented across both sites, a new program — My Gen — was introduced for people over 50.

Up Late programs — with a Friday night mix of talks, live music, films and art — attracted 23 500 visitors during ‘Picasso & his collection’ and ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’.

This year, the Gallery’s volunteer guides provided a total of 2189 guided tours for 21 375 people.

PUBLISHING
The Gallery’s publishing program makes available research and scholarship about the Collection and exhibitions to a wide audience, and this year 14 titles were produced. In addition to The China Project, major publications included Place Makers: Contemporary Queensland Architects, about the state’s architectural culture; Tim Johnson: Painting Ideas (with the Art Gallery of New South Wales); and American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met, produced in partnership with The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and Art Exhibitions Australia.

AUSTRALIAN CINÉMATHÈQUE
The Australian Cinémathèque is the only facility of its kind in an Australian art museum. Highlights of the year’s program included a major international survey of expressionist German film, Out of the Shadows; the exhibition and screening program Modern Ruin; and curated programs complementing major exhibitions at the Gallery. A popular highpoint for audiences was Be Afraid: Fear in North American Cinema (27 February – 22 March 2009). The Cinémathèque presented 438 short and feature films in 651 sessions, and attracted an attendance of 31 660 visitors.

MEMBERS
An expanded and revitalised Members program made new connections between the community and the Gallery. A dedicated program of Members events included special viewings of new acquisitions and previews of major exhibitions.

FOUNDATION
The Queensland Art Gallery Foundation celebrated its 30th anniversary in 2009. The special anniversary appeal raised funds towards the acquisition of a sterling silver Hunt and Roskell Presentation vase 1864, an important addition to the Gallery’s colonial art holdings. The Gallery also acquired significant works through the ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ exhibition appeal.
CHAIR’S OVERVIEW

The Queensland Art Gallery and Gallery of Modern Art have presented the people of Queensland, and audiences from further afield, with an outstanding range of exhibitions, services, public programs and publications this year. The achievements and outcomes for the year have been guided by the five key goals of the Gallery’s Strategic Plan 2008–13, underpinned by our philosophy of bringing together art and people.

The Gallery’s program included two significant international exhibitions. With the strong local and national interest in the redeveloped cultural precinct, these events play a measurable and valuable role, not just in their cultural impact, but in profiling the Gallery and the city of Brisbane as a contemporary, cultural tourism destination. ‘Picasso & his collection’, already underway at the commencement of this financial year, closed in September with a final attendance of 206,580 visitors, a strong critical reception and an outstanding audience satisfaction level. The Tourism and Economic Evaluation report, commissioned by the Gallery, estimated that the event attracted new spending in Queensland of $10.64 million. The second international exhibition, ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, opened this year on 30 May at the Queensland Art Gallery. We are committed to continuing to present these exciting international projects.

Other key achievements were ‘The China Project’, a three-part exhibition project which included the Gallery’s landmark collection of contemporary Chinese art; and ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’, the first in a new triennial series of contemporary Australian art exhibitions. Together with the balance of the year’s programming, the scale and scope of these projects reflects the opportunities provided by our expanded infrastructure. The number of exhibitions increased this year, and a substantial level of programming was based on our own Collection. The program included, across both sites, exhibitions and displays exploring Indigenous Australian art, programs at the Australian Cinémathèque, national award programs such as the final Xstrata Coal Emerging Indigenous Art Award and the inaugural Premier of Queensland’s National New Media Art Award, and important travelling exhibitions. The Gallery also contributed to a series of exhibitions in 2009 to celebrate Queensland’s sesquicentenary.

Now in our third year as a two-site institution, this was an important period in which to maintain strong attendances and a high public profile. We know from national and international examples that after the initial response to new or expanded facilities, the challenge for art museums is to achieve sustainable levels of attendance and engagement. This year, the Gallery has again produced an exceptional attendance result, with visitor numbers totalling 1,153,326. Record attendances were achieved in regional Queensland, with the highest ever level of service delivery, and a travelling exhibition program attended by 79,363 visitors. The Children’s Art Centre and the Australian Cinémathèque, both the only facilities of their kind in Australia, continued to make important contributions to attendances.

The Gallery’s exhibitions were complemented by a range of high-quality publications and, for the first time this year, we profiled the year’s programming and achievements in the new calendar year publication Review.

The year’s achievements owe much to the continued and significant support provided by the Queensland Government and the Honourable Anna Bligh, MP, Premier of Queensland and Minister for the Arts. The Queensland Government has been a great supporter of the Gallery’s commitment to bringing major international exhibitions to Queensland and Australian audiences, and visitors to our state. In addition, the Government also funded significant refurbishments at the Queensland Art Gallery this year. The refurbished galleries, presently showing ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, will later this year present works from our own Australian collection to their best ever advantage. My thanks also go to Ken Smith, Director-General, Department of the Premier and Cabinet; Leigh Tabrett, Deputy Director-General, Arts Queensland; and the staff of Arts Queensland. I also thank the Honourable Rod Welford, former Minister for Education and Training and Minister for the Arts; and Rachel Hunter, former Director-General, Department of Education, Training and the Arts. Thanks must also be extended this year to the Australian Government; the Department of the Environment, Water, Heritage and the Arts; the Australia Council for the Arts; and Visions of Australia.
At the close of another successful year, I commend our Director Tony Ellwood for his oversight of the Gallery’s achievements and his assured leadership. I also acknowledge the members of the Gallery’s Executive Management Team for their contributions, and thank the Gallery’s staff for their commitment and efforts towards another demanding and successful program. I also thank the Gallery’s Foundation, and Foundation President Tim Fairfax, AM, for their outstanding achievements this year towards building our permanent collection. Finally, I thank my fellow Trustees for their efforts and expertise — Tim Fairfax, AM; Mark Gray; Dr Amanda Bell; John Lobban; David Millhouse; Avril Quaill and David Williams.

I trust you will enjoy reading about the Gallery’s achievements in 2008–09.

Professor John Hay, AC
Chair, Board of Trustees
This year the Collection — the Gallery’s principal resource — has been central to our achievements. Collection development continued with great strength, reflecting the Gallery’s commitment to collecting across a broad range of strategic areas. The year’s achievements also reflected an increased emphasis on showing Collection works — making them accessible and meaningful for audiences. These outcomes follow on from the opening of the Gallery of Modern Art, and the capacity we now have to program exhibitions and Collection displays across two magnificent exhibition venues.

In one of the year’s most exciting endeavours, the Gallery’s internationally significant collection of contemporary Chinese art was presented and contextualised in ‘The China Project’. As part of the project, the exhibition ‘Three Decades: The Contemporary Chinese Collection’ brought together works dating from the early 1980s to the present. Major works collected by the Gallery since the early 1990s — such as Xu Bing’s A book from the sky 1987–91, Fang Lijun’s 981018 1998 and Cai Guo-Qiang’s 1996 gunpowder drawing — were shown along with works acquired through the Asia Pacific Triennial exhibitions. These included key pieces by Ai Weiwei, Zhang Peili and Song Dong, and significant gifts, such as a group of works from the 1980s donated by Dr Claire Roberts and Professor Nicholas Jose. Highlights included the site-specific commission China Red 2008–09 by Wang Qingsong and — on loan to the Gallery — a series of 36 bronze busts by Ah Xian, which were on show for the first time. With the generosity of Tim Fairfax, AM, a suite of these was acquired for the Collection. The Queensland Art Gallery began building its contemporary Chinese collection in the early 1990s, and ‘The China Project’ represented a significant milestone in the institution’s history.

A highlight of other Collection displays during the year was an installation of recent contemporary international acquisitions at GoMA. Acquired with the wonderful support of Tim and Gina Fairfax, these included works by William Eggleston, Thomas Demand, Beate Streuli, Tobias Putrih, Candice Breitz and Yvonne Todd. The Tim Fairfax Family Foundation also supported this year’s acquisition of Julian Opie’s People walking. Coloured 2008, the first major work by this British artist to enter an Australian collection. Longstanding supporter Philip Bacon, AM, donated an important work by the British colourist Matthew Smith, and this has been displayed in a new hang of the international collection at the Queensland Art Gallery.

The holdings of contemporary Australian art were also further developed this year. A Queensland Art Gallery Foundation Appeal enabled the purchase of 17 works from ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’, the first in a new triennial series of exhibitions of contemporary Australian art. A second appeal, celebrating the 30th anniversary of the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation, supported the acquisition of an extraordinary sterling silver Hunt and Roskell Presentation vase 1864.

Significant additions to the Collection were made in other key areas throughout the year. We acknowledge and thank all those Foundation members, artists, donors and supporters of the Gallery who have assisted with building the Collection. Our Chair of Trustees, Professor John Hay, AC; and Barbara Hay; James C Sourris; Patrick Corrigan, AM; Henry Bartlett, CMG, OBE; Win Schubert; Professor Lawrence Hirst and Dr Geoffrey Hirst are among those who have generously supported this work.

Our Indigenous Australian holdings were also strongly profiled this year in Collection-based exhibitions, ranging from ‘Namatjira to Now’ (18 October 2008 – 15 February 2009) at the Queensland Art Gallery, to ‘Breaking Boundaries: Contemporary Indigenous Australian Art from the Collection’ (13 December 2008 – 26 July 2009) at GoMA, and smaller focused displays.

Our audiences also enjoyed a remarkably wide-ranging program of other exhibitions. We were delighted to bring Queensland and Australian audiences two major international exclusives, ‘Picasso & his collection’ and ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, both supported by the Queensland Government and Queensland Events Corporation. The high profile and broad appeal of these exhibitions made significant contributions to our attendances for the year, totalling 1 153 326.

We were pleased to host the inaugural exhibition for the Premier of Queensland’s National New Media Art Award (1 November 2008 – 8 February 2009), and we also hosted the final Xstrata Coal Emerging Indigenous Art Award exhibition (11 July – 12 October 2008). Following the success of the three-year Award program, Xstrata Coal has generously committed to a new three-year program, to present ongoing exhibitions and a lecture tour program focused on Queensland art.
Queensland's visual culture has been explored in this year’s program. Highlights included a survey of Queensland artist Eugene Carchesio’s practice, featuring more than 300 works, and a major architectural design exhibition, ‘Place Makers: Contemporary Queensland Architects’.

With the facilities of the Australian Cinémathèque and the Media Gallery at GoMA, the Gallery has the capacity to present combined screening programs and exhibitions of cinema and moving-image works. ‘Modern Ruin’ (12 July – 12 October 2008) featured artists and filmmakers whose work critically engages with modern art, architecture and design, and ‘The view from elsewhere’ features contemporary video art and cinema practice across Asia and the Middle East. The latter was produced in partnership with Sherman Contemporary Art Foundation, Sydney.

As always, the exhibition program was supported by quality interpretive programs, including artist talks and discussions, as well as tours with curators, collectors and artists. The Gallery’s Collection and its exhibitions were also documented and interpreted by a comprehensive publishing program. Each year, the Gallery also presents a program of Collection-based exhibitions in regional Queensland. This year, a record attendance of 79,363 visitors was achieved for these travelling exhibitions, and four public programs were also presented in regional Queensland.

Innovative audience development continued to frame the Gallery’s character for different audiences, from the youthful energy of successful Up Late events, to specialist programming for children, a revitalised Members program, and a new public program — My Gen, for people over 50. Guided tours continued to provide access and information; this year, 2189 tours and groups, consisting of 21,375 visitors, toured exhibitions and collections with the Gallery’s volunteer guides. We acknowledge the wonderful commitment of our 92 volunteer guides in supporting this work.

A program of the intensity, rigour and scale that has been presented over the past year depends on many important relationships and partnerships. The international exhibitions would not have been possible without our partnership with Art Exhibitions Australia and, of course, the musée national Picasso, Paris, and The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. We thank Principal Donor Singapore Airlines and Principal Sponsor Mazda Australia for their support of these exhibitions, along with an important group of major media and tourism sponsors and partners who have made enormously important contributions to the success of these ambitious projects. I also thank Ausenco, who were exhibition sponsor for ‘The China Project’.

Our partnerships with other galleries and art organisations around Australia are also important, and we have been delighted to work with the National Gallery of Australia, the Art Gallery of New South Wales, and the National Gallery of Victoria as a venue for travelling exhibitions this year. We also partnered with the Art Gallery of New South Wales to develop and present the travelling exhibition, ‘Tim Johnson: Painting Ideas’, and with Sherman Contemporary Art Foundation, Sydney, to present the exhibition and film program, ‘The view from elsewhere’.

The achievements of the past year would, of course, not be possible without the ongoing support of the Queensland Government, the personal interest and support of the Honourable Anna Bligh, MP, Premier of Queensland and Minister for the Arts, and the assistance of Arts Queensland. I also thank the Australian Government; the Department of the Environment, Water, Heritage and the Arts; the Australia Council for the Arts; and Visions of Australia for their support.

For their commitment to the Gallery and their investment of time and expertise, I thank Professor John Hay, AC, Chair of Trustees, and the Board of Trustees. I also thank the Foundation Council and President Tim Fairfax, AM, for their important and generous support. For their ongoing dedication and much-valued contributions, I thank the Gallery’s Executive Management Team members, Lynne Seear, Andrew Clark and Celestine Doyle; staff and volunteers.

I look forward to the continued task of building and maintaining the relationships that sustain our art museum and our work — building the state’s collection and presenting engaging programs that bring together art and people.

TWO SITES, ONE VISION

The program for 2008–09 has sustained strong and broad interest in the Gallery and successfully embraced both the Gallery’s sites. Underpinning the Gallery’s planning, programming and communications is its commitment to a singular vision across both sites.

The broader audience and media interest in the institution and the redeveloped cultural precinct has also been successfully maintained, evidenced by strong attendances for the year and a consistent presence of the Gallery’s programming in local, regional and national media.

Challenges identified in the Gallery’s Strategic Plan included being an industry leader in developing and securing international exhibitions, and developing and maintaining audiences in an increasingly competitive leisure market.

In 2008–09, the Gallery successfully presented two major international exhibitions — one in each of the two sites.

‘Picasso & his collection’ closed in September 2008 with a final attendance of 206,580 visitors and a strong critical reception. The Tourism and Economic Evaluation report, commissioned by the Gallery, estimated that the event attracted new spending in Queensland of $10.64 million, with an associated economic impact estimated at $6.71 million.

The second international exhibition, ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, opened this year on 30 May at the Queensland Art Gallery; audience surveys conducted prior to the end of the financial year reflected a satisfaction level of 95 per cent.

The second international exhibition, ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, opened this year on 30 May at the Queensland Art Gallery; audience surveys conducted prior to the end of the financial year reflected a satisfaction level of 95 per cent.

The Gallery produced an outstanding annual attendance result, with visitor numbers to both sites totalling 1,153,326. Record attendances were achieved in regional Queensland, with a travelling exhibition program attended by 79,363 visitors. Numbers also increased at the Australian Cinémathèque, with 31,660 visitors.

One of the Gallery’s goals is to maximise the benefits and opportunities provided by the expanded and upgraded infrastructure. This year’s program achieved this, presenting an increased number of exhibitions, balancing scholarly achievement and broad appeal. In addition to presenting the two major international shows, the program included:

- ‘The China Project’, a major milestone for the Gallery, which brought together its internationally important collection of contemporary Chinese art (see ‘In focus’ on page 28)
- ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’, the first in the Gallery’s new national triennial series of contemporary Australian art exhibitions (see ‘In focus’ on page 19)
- The inaugural Premier of Queensland’s National New Media Art Award, and the final Xstrata Coal Emerging Indigenous Art Award
- ‘Place Makers: Contemporary Queensland Architects’
- exhibitions which profiled individual artists, including Eugene Carchesio, Tim Johnson, William Yang, and international artists Spencer Finch and Zhang Xiaogang
- important travelling exhibitions — a retrospective of Sidney Nolan, a survey of Gordon Bennett, an exhibition of prints by Otto Dix, and ‘Culture Warriors: National Indigenous Art Triennial’ (see Exhibitions Schedule and Sponsors for details and acknowledgements, pages 59–62)
- a series of exhibitions celebrating Queensland’s sesquicentenary, including ‘LJ Harvey and His Times’ (21 February – 14 June 2009, Xstrata Coal Queensland Artists’ Gallery, QAG). The exhibition marked the return to Queensland of an important collection of material related to Harvey’s career. Harvey was the most important practitioner and teacher in the Arts and Crafts Movement in Queensland and a figure of national significance. The exhibition was sponsored by Xstrata Coal.
- an increased number of exhibitions and displays, drawn from the Gallery’s own Collection and profiling recent acquisitions (see page 29 for more detail)
• an Australian Cinémathèque program including a major international retrospective; film programs accompanying major exhibitions; and combined screening programs and exhibitions, using the facilities of the Cinémathèque and GoMA’s Media Gallery
• a consistent program of high-quality and accessible public programs, including floor talks, lectures, tours, discussions
• the largest regional program to date, with five travelling exhibitions and four public programs offered
• programs of events and resources for all levels of the education sector
• successful audience development initiatives — including the continuing Up Late events; My Gen, a new public program for people over 50; and a revitalised Members’ program
• specially created high-quality programs at the Children’s Art Centre, including the annual summer festival for families and children.

Included in the program were many examples of synergies and counterpoints between concurrent exhibitions, expanding on how exhibition content, and our own Collection, is interpreted and enjoyed.

Working with partner institutions within the Cultural Centre and Arts Queensland, the Gallery participated in the production of two promotional guides for Cultural Centre visitors.

AUSTRALIAN CINÉMATHÈQUE

The Australian Cinémathèque at GoMA remains the only facility of its kind in an Australian art museum.

This year Out of the Shadows: German Expressionism and Beyond (4 September – 30 November 2008), curated for the Australian Cinémathèque by Russell Merritt PhD, Adjunct Professor of Film Studies at University of California, Berkeley (USA), was the Cinémathèque’s major international retrospective season.

The Cinémathèque continued to present combined film programs and exhibitions addressing trends in film and contemporary video art. These included ‘Modern Ruin’ (12 July – 12 October 2008) and, in partnership with Sherman Contemporary Art Foundation, Sydney, ‘The view from elsewhere’ (19 March – 13 June 2009, Sydney). The latter was first presented in Sydney and will be presented at GoMA from July 2009.

The year’s program also included Be Afraid: Fear in North American Cinema (27 February – 22 March 2009).

The Cinémathèque also presented major retrospectives on key filmmakers: Pere Portabella (15–31 August 2008), curated by Dr Mark Nash, curator, writer and Head of Department for Curating Contemporary Art at the Royal College of Art, London; and Your Hidden Smile: The Films of Pedro Costa (6–14 December 2008), presented in partnership with Melbourne Cinémathèque.
IN FOCUS:

‘CONTEMPORARY AUSTRALIA: OPTIMISM’

15 NOVEMBER 2008 – 22 FEBRUARY 2009, GoMA

The exhibition was the first in a new triennial series of thematic contemporary Australian art exhibitions. It presented more than 250 works by 67 emerging, mid-career and senior artists from every state and territory. ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ presented recent works by artists including Vernon Ah Kee, Sean Cordeiro and Claire Healy, Natasha Johns-Messenger, Emily Floyd, Thomas Meadowcroft, Patricia Piccinini, Scott Redford, Darren Sylvester, Kathy Temin and Arlene TextaQueen.

ATTENDANCE

186 028 people visited GoMA during a 14-week season.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS

Highlights included curator and artist floor talks during the opening weekend, and the lecture series Talking About Contemporary Australian Art. Guided tours and programs for teachers and educators were included in the educational and interpretive programs.

CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE

Kids: Contemporary Australia presented 11 activities developed by exhibiting artists. The Gallery also presented its annual Summer Festival for children and families, from 16 to 26 January 2009, which offered artist workshops, performances, cinema programs and special events. The festival attracted 50 110 visitors, and was sponsored by Quest Community Newspapers and Q150.

REGIONAL PROGRAM

3908 people participated in Kids: Contemporary Australia on Tour at 30 regional Queensland venues.

OPENING

The exhibition was officially opened on Friday 14 November by the Honourable Rod Welford, MP, then Minister for Education and Training and Minister for the Arts. Guest speaker was Australian comedian Judith Lucy.

AUSTRALIA UP LATE

8086 visitors attended the Up Late program from 2 January to 20 February 2009. The program included talks, films and performances by Australian musicians and comedians.

AUSTRALIAN CINÉMATHÈQUE

The Cinémathèque presented retrospectives of three key Australian filmmakers: Rolf de Heer, Clara Law and Ivan Sen. It also presented two programs for the Kids: Contemporary Australia Summer Festival — From the Outback to the Islands: Animation by Kids; and films from A Portrait of Nicole Kidman. A total of 40 short and feature films and 16 television episodes were presented, with 4015 people attending 114 screenings.

PUBLISHING

A 280-page catalogue featured essays on each of the artists; an introduction by lead curator Julie Ewington, Curatorial Manager, Australian Art; and responses to the subject of ‘optimism’ from contributors including author John Birmingham.

SPONSORS AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Founding Supporter was the Queensland Government. Principal Sponsor was the Australian Government, through the Australia Council for the Arts. Major Sponsors were Adshel, Austereo’s Triple M, Brisbane Marketing, Chairman’s Circle, Clemenger, The Courier-Mail, Foster’s Australia, Network Ten and Tourism Queensland; and Supporting Sponsors were ourbrisbane.com and Quest Community Newspapers. The High/Perpetual Xmas, No Abstractions 2008 by Scott Redford received financial assistance through Arts Queensland from art+place, the Queensland Government’s Public Art Fund.
CULTURAL TOURISM

The Gallery’s profile as a cultural tourism destination has continued to strengthen, with a program of wide audience appeal including significant international and national exhibitions. Relationships with national and international museums and arts organisations, and with key media and tourism sector partners, have assisted the Gallery to achieve its cultural tourism goals.

A specific cultural tourism goal became part of the Gallery’s Strategic Plan for the first time in 2008–09. Gallery consultation with tourism agencies and businesses, sponsors and partners has supported the programming of exclusive exhibitions that can be packaged and marketed with other tourism products and experiences intrastate, interstate and internationally.

These exhibitions, and the opening of the Gallery of Modern Art, have contributed significantly to the increasing recognition of Brisbane as an important cultural tourism destination.

As well as the cultural, educational and social benefits of these events for audiences, there are significant tourism and economic benefits for Queensland, including new spending and the attraction of visitors who support other cultural and tourism attractions during their stay.

ATTRACTING VISITORS TO THE CITY

‘Picasso & his collection’ provided an opportunity to market the exhibition and Brisbane as a cultural destination regionally, nationally and internationally. For this exhibition, 54 per cent of patrons were visitors to Brisbane: 31 per cent from regional Queensland, 16 per cent from interstate and 7 per cent from overseas. The Tourism and Economic Evaluation, commissioned by the Gallery, estimated that the event attracted new spending in Queensland of $10.64 million, with an associated economic impact estimated at $6.71 million.

‘The China Project’, a significant milestone for the Gallery, attracted audiences which comprised 20 per cent interstate visitors, 15 per cent from regional Queensland, and 11 per cent from overseas, a total of 46 per cent being visitors to Brisbane.

The first in a new triennial series of exhibitions of contemporary Australian art, ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ also contributed to attracting visitors to Brisbane; 34 per cent of patrons were visitors to the city, 11 per cent were from regional Queensland, 12 per cent from interstate and 11 per cent from overseas.

PROFILE THE GALLERY

The Gallery has worked closely with a group of media and tourism partners throughout the year. Their support, for specific exhibitions, has assisted the Gallery to deliver strategic and high-profile marketing. The Gallery’s media campaigns have included briefings, previews, an online media centre and familiarisations organised with Tourism Queensland and Brisbane Marketing. The Gallery’s exhibitions and programs have been profiled consistently in metropolitan, regional and national media. The Gallery’s own key corporate marketing materials include Preview, Artlines magazine, the Gallery’s e-bulletin Artmail, Cinefile, and the Gallery’s website.
INTERNATIONAL AND NATIONAL RELATIONSHIPS

The Gallery’s relationship and partnership with Art Exhibitions Australia was critical to securing and presenting ‘Picasso & his collection’ and ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’. The relationships with the musée national Picasso, Paris, and The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, were also vital to presenting these exhibitions.

Partnerships and relationships with Australian galleries and funding agencies have also provided a foundation for important projects this year. ‘Tim Johnson: Painting Ideas’ was organised with the Art Gallery of New South Wales. The exhibition was supported by the Contemporary Touring Initiative through Visions of Australia, an Australian Government program; and the Visual Arts and Crafts Strategy, an initiative of the Australian, State and Territory Governments.

The Gallery undertook its first project in partnership with Sherman Contemporary Art Foundation (SCAF), Sydney. ‘The view from elsewhere’, an exhibition and screening program reflecting contemporary video art and cinema practice across Asia and the Middle East, was presented at SCAF from 19 March to 13 June 2009.

The Gallery was also a venue for significant travelling exhibitions: ‘War: The Prints of Otto Dix’, a National Gallery of Australia Travelling Exhibition; ‘Culture Warriors: National Indigenous Art Triennial’, also a National Gallery of Australia Travelling Exhibition; ‘Sidney Nolan: A New Retrospective’, organised by the Art Gallery of New South Wales; and ‘Gordon Bennett’, a National Gallery of Victoria Touring Exhibition.

COMMERCIAL SERVICES

The Gallery Store produced merchandise and set up dedicated retail spaces for some of the year’s major exhibitions. In conjunction with ‘Picasso & his collection’, the Gallery Store produced a range of merchandise for a shop in the GoMA Foyer, and sold Picasso products sourced from licensed manufacturers all over the world. To coincide with ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’, the Gallery Store also produced a range of ‘multiples’ by selected exhibiting artists, including Patricia Piccinini, Gemma Smith, Emily Floyd and Scott Redford. Limited-edition prints by Vernon Ah Kee and Michael Leunig were also available. An extensive range of merchandise was also produced for ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’. Products were also sourced from The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, for sale exclusively in the Gallery’s exhibition store.

The successful commercial partnership with Queensland Performing Arts Trust (QPAT) and their ticketing outlet QTIX continued during the year, for the management of internet and telephone sales for the major international exhibitions.

The Gallery Store hosted a range of events during the year, including its Christmas Design Market and book launches. The Christmas Design Market was held on the plaza outside the Gallery of Modern Art Store on 6 December 2008, featuring local designers and craft artists and attracting almost 1000 patrons.

IN FOCUS: ‘PICASSO & HIS COLLECTION’
9 JUNE – 14 SEPTEMBER 2008, GoMA
Curated by Anne Baldassari, Director of the musée national Picasso, Paris, the exhibition presented more than 100 works from Picasso’s own personal collection and around 80 important works by the artist himself. The collection was presented for the first time outside Europe and exclusively in Brisbane. It included paintings, drawings and prints by Matisse, Renoir, Cézanne, Rousseau, Modigliani, Braque and others, as well as a selection of Oceanic and African works.

ATTENDANCE
The exhibition attracted 206,580 visitors.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS
Guided tours, talks, New Wave programs for tertiary students, and programs for teachers were included in the educational and interpretive programs. A highlight was Talking About Modern Art, a talks series exploring major developments in art history of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century.

Kozan, a Torres Strait Islander community day, was held on 31 August 2008, marking the significance of the Mabulag Island mask included in the exhibition. The program included dance, workshops and art-making activities.

REGIONAL PROGRAM
A regional Queensland lecture tour visited 25 venues, with a total audience of 1130.

OPENING
The Honourable Anna Bligh, MP, Premier of Queensland, officially opened the exhibition on Sunday 8 June 2008.

UP LATE
15,414 attended Up Late, the 14-week Friday night program which included 16 local, national and international musicians and 14 local speakers.

AUSTRALIAN CINÉMATHÈQUE
The Cinémathèque curated a film program exploring Picasso’s relationship to cinema; it also presented a program celebrating French poet and screenwriter Jacques Prévert, whose collages featured in the exhibition. A total of 48 short and feature films were presented, with 3398 people attending 69 screenings.

CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE
The Children’s Art Centre offered art-making activities, a contemporary media lounge for young people, and a lecture program, I♥Art History, for secondary students. 2426 students, including 702 regional students, participated in I♥Art History.

PUBLISHING
A 312-page catalogue (in softcover and limited-edition hardcover) included contributions from Anne Baldassari, Director, musée national Picasso, Paris; and Philippe Saunier, former Curator, musée national Picasso.

SPONSORS AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT
Presented by Queensland Events Corporation, ‘Picasso & his collection’ was organised by the musée national Picasso, Paris, in association with the Queensland Art Gallery and Art Exhibitions Australia. The Principal Sponsor was Mazda Australia and the Principal Donor was Singapore Airlines. The Major Sponsors were the Seven Network, News Limited (The Courier-Mail, The Australian and Herald Sun), Austereo’s Triple M, Adshel, George Patterson Y&R, Tourism Queensland and Brisbane Marketing; Supporting Sponsor was ourbrisbane.com. The exhibition was indemnified by the Australian Government through Art Indemnity Australia, in partnership with the Queensland Government Exhibition Indemnity Scheme, administered by Arts Queensland. This exhibition opened in the previous financial year, and closed in 2008–09; final outcomes have been reported in this financial year.
COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

ACQUISITION HIGHLIGHTS

The Gallery’s Collection consists of 13,743 works, with 579 works acquired in 2008–09.

CONTEMPORARY AUSTRALIAN ART

Collection development of contemporary Australian art was predominantly sourced in the last year by acquisitions from ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’. A survey of senior, mid-career and emerging artists, the exhibition provided the opportunity to address two major Collection emphases outlined in the Acquisitions 2005–08 development plan: to acquire the work of mid-career artists across all media, and to identify emerging artists and secure outstanding examples of their work.

In the former category, acquisitions were made of works by Emily Floyd, Tony Schwensen, Kathy Temin and Patricia Piccinini. In the latter category, the artists included Christian de Vietri, Tarryn Gill and Pilar Mata Dupont, Petrina Hicks, Arlo Mountford and Gemma Smith.

Emily Floyd’s sculptural installation Permaculture crossed with feminist science fiction 2008 is a major achievement and a signature piece for future displays in GoMA. Its acquisition addresses the policy emphases on ‘contemporary developments in installation’ and ‘all forms of art influenced by the relations between mass media, popular culture, politics and art’. This work reflects a sophisticated consideration of discourses in environmental management and popular science fiction texts.

Kathy Temin’s My monument: White forest 2008 is the largest and one of the most important works made by this significant Australian artist. It forms the centrepiece of the Gallery’s holdings of her work.

Patricia Piccinini is represented in the Collection across a range of media, including photography, video and sculpture. The acquisition of The stags 2008 has secured a major work for the Australian art collection.

Christian de Vietri’s Tim 2006 recognises the Gallery’s commitment to securing outstanding works by emerging artists. This visually appealing and conceptually complex work effectively uses transitional spaces in the Gallery, where the context allows it to be mistaken for a ‘living’ person.

To develop, manage and conserve the Collection to the highest art museum standards for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future users.

Tarryn Gill and Pilar Mata Dupont have recently emerged as a highly creative collaborative duo, working in both performance and photography. The acquisition of all five works from the ‘Heart of Gold Project 5: The All Australian Surf Lifesaver’ series builds on the Gallery’s holdings of contemporary Australian photography. The works also make an addition to narratives around national identity that can be drawn from the Australian art collection.

Gemma Smith’s growing reputation is based on her experimentation with materials and extensive research into colour theory. She demonstrates a playful and intelligent approach to the legacy of twentieth-century geometric abstraction, a strong thematic thread running through the Gallery’s contemporary Australian art holdings.

AUSTRALIAN ART TO 1970

Acquisitions in Australian art to 1970 have encompassed diverse periods and media, from modernist painting to colonial metalwork. A focus on works on paper reflected the Acquisitions 2005–08 development plan intention — to selectively acquire works on paper before 1970.

The important watercolour (Barrier reef) c.1938, a gift from Kenneth Macqueen’s daughter Marion Sharan, and Tom Sharan, added significantly to existing holdings of Macqueen’s work. This acquisition was part of a program to augment the Gallery’s holdings of works by Macqueen since the major 2007–08 Queensland Art Gallery exhibition ‘Making it Modern: The Watercolours of Kenneth Macqueen’.

The English–Australian artist Charles Conder was known for his fine draughtsmanship; the acquisition of Siesta (Swanage) 1900 has expanded the Collection’s significant holdings of his work. This drawing was one of twelve works donated to the Gallery’s Collection by Professor Lawrence Hirst and Dr Geoffrey Hirst through the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation. Also included in the gifted works was the gouache Cellist 1957, a fine example of Fred Williams’s early figurative work. Cellist complements the Gallery’s excellent holdings of etchings from Williams’s ‘Music hall’ series.

The Gallery has actively collected modernist prints in the recent past, especially works by female printmakers; these include a small group of works by seminal painter and printmaker Dorrit Black. Curatorial staff had actively searched for a fine example of Black’s painting to add to the Gallery’s small but significant holdings of Australian modernist art of the early twentieth century; the acquisition of In the foothills 1942 considerably strengthens the Gallery’s Collection.

OPPOSITE

Patricia Piccinini
The stag 2008
ABS plastic, automotive paint, plastic, stainless steel, leather, rubber tyres, ed. 1/3, 196.4 x 224 x 167cm (installed, variable)

Purchased 2009 with funds from the Estate of Lawrence F King in memory of the late Mr and Mrs SW King through the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation and the Queensland Government’s Gallery of Modern Art Acquisitions Fund.
A renewed emphasis on decorative arts resulted in the acquisition of the magnificent Hunt and Roskell Presentation vase 1864, acquired through the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation 30th Anniversary Appeal. The Gallery holds a modest collection of colonial metalwork with Australian associations, but nothing as elaborate as this work. The vase’s highly ornate decoration is unlike anything ever produced in the Australian colonies, though the presence of the beautifully cast pair of kangaroos, an emu and a camel around the base suggest that it was commissioned with an Australian connection in mind.

The Gallery’s Research Library received an important gift of Australian art exhibition catalogues from Patrick Corrigan, AM, donated through the Australian Government’s Cultural Gifts Program.

INTERNATIONAL ART

The Gallery’s international collection has been greatly enhanced by major new acquisitions, with generous support from donors including Tim Fairfax, AM, Gina Fairfax and the Tim Fairfax Family Foundation; Philip Bacon, AM; and Professor Lawrence Hirst and Dr Geoffrey Hirst. Tobias Putrih’s Connection 2004 and Martin Creed’s Work no. 189 1998 are unique and strategic additions to the Gallery’s substantial collection of sculpture which also includes works by Ron Mueck, Gabriel Orozco and Rachel Whiteread. Putrih’s Connection 2004 refers to a great modernist project of the twentieth century, by the Finnish–American architect Eero Saarinen, known as the Gateway Arch in St Louis, Missouri; it also playfully invokes the paradox of a monumental and stable architectural form built from ephemeral, impermanent cardboard. Play and irony is also at the heart of Martin Creed’s Work no. 189, which deploys a contingent of 39 metronomes beating simultaneously in a cacophony of random tempo.

The addition of works by Beat Streuli, Rivane Neuenschwander and Julian Opie expanded the Gallery’s growing collection of screen-based and electronic media art. Streuli’s practice in photography and video engages with the individual in urban settings. Broadway/Prince Street 04-01 I 2001–02 has been edited by the artist from hours of footage shot on the corner of Prince Street and Broadway in New York City’s Soho; it can be seen in relation to the longstanding tradition of artists who engage with urban life — its energy, speed and crowds.

Rivane Neuenschwander is a leading figure of the generation of Brazilian artists who emerged on the international scene during the 1990s. In his video work Contingent 2008, swarms of ants traverse a map of the world rendered in honey. The piece poetically captures the transience of the organic world and its finite resources. Neuenschwander is the first contemporary Brazilian artist to be represented in the Collection.

Julian Opie is regarded as one of the leading British artists of his generation and his work is characterised by a highly simplified visual language, resembling the pictograms associated with public signage. The human figure is the pre-eminent subject of his work, and the recently acquired People walking. Coloured 2008 is a major work.

Further additions have been made to the Gallery’s collection of works on paper. Among them is Damien Hirst’s For the love of God, laugh 2007. In this work, Hirst symbolically adds value to the idea of the ‘print’ as the reproduction of an original by applying diamond dust to the work’s surface. A portfolio of ten woodcuts by New York-based Swiss artist Ugo Rondinone utilises text as image; these works can be considered in relation to the tradition of concrete poetry that emerged in the 1950s, embraced by a wide range of avant-garde artists associated with movements such as Lettrism and Fluxus.

The gifted works of important British painters Walter Richard Sickert and Matthew Smith have strengthened the artists’ existing representation in the Collection. Two small studies by Sickert, Mr Sheepshanks’s house c.1918 and The bridle path (Pulteney Bridge) c.1918, painted in Bath, England, are welcome additions to the profile of this important English artist in the Collection. Matthew Smith’s Tulips c.1925 exemplifies the fertile and successful period of the artist’s career — a period which established Smith as an outstanding colourist among British painters. Joe Tilson is another important British artist; his portfolio of 26 screenprints A–Z BOX, FRAGMENTS OF ONEIRIC ALPHABET 1969 is a substantial addition to current holdings of prints by British artists from the 1960s to the 1990s.

IN FOCUS: ‘THE CHINA PROJECT’
28 MARCH – 28 JUNE 2009, GoMA

‘The China Project’ was a significant event in the Gallery’s history. The project comprised three discrete yet interconnected exhibitions: ‘Three Decades: The Contemporary Chinese Collection’; ‘Zhang Xiaogang: Shadows in the Soul’; and ‘William Yang: Life Lines’. Together, the exhibitions demonstrated the richness and complexity of the contemporary art of China and its diaspora since the early 1980s. The ‘Three Decades’ exhibition brought together for the first time the Gallery’s exemplary collection of contemporary Chinese art, recognised as one of the finest collections of its kind internationally, and a legacy of the collection development that has occurred through the Asia Pacific Triennial exhibition series.

‘The China Project’ presented the first solo exhibition in Australia by renowned painter Zhang Xiaogang, and a site-specific commission by one of this country’s most respected photographers and performers, William Yang. The three exhibitions featured more than 220 art works, and were accompanied by talks, tours, education programs, two dedicated activities in the Children’s Art Centre, and a major Cinémathèque screening program surveying three prominent Chinese directors.

‘The China Project’ was organised by the Queensland Art Gallery, with the Zhang Xiaogang exhibition co-curated by Leng Lin, a distinguished Beijing-based curator.

ATTENDANCE
117,948 people visited GoMA during the 13-week exhibition season.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS
A highlight of the educational and interpretive programs were talks and tours presented by artists, collectors, scholars and curators from China and Australia during the opening weekend.

OPENING
The exhibition was officially opened by the Honourable Anna Bligh, MP, Premier of Queensland and Minister for the Arts, and artist William Yang was guest speaker.

AUSTRALIAN CINÉMATHÈQUE
The screening program profiled three celebrated Chinese directors, whose works define the key transitions in the emergence of a vibrant contemporary Chinese cinema: Xie Jin, Zhang Yimou and Jia Zhang-ke.

CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE
The Children’s Art Centre offered two activities — Song Dong’s popular Writing with water, first developed for APT 2002, and William Yang’s Australia now, which invited children to draw a self-portrait and tell a story about themselves.

PUBLISHING
The China Project catalogue is the first substantial publication to document the Gallery’s collection of contemporary Chinese art. The catalogue features essays by Chinese art historian and curator Feng Boyi and scholars Dr Claire Roberts, Professor Nicholas Jose and Thomas Berghuis; an overview by Suhanya Raffel; and an essay by Gallery conservators Anne Carter and Gillian Osmond. Co-curator of the Zhang Xiaogang exhibition, Leng Lin, contributed a major essay, and a substantial interview with William Yang is also included.

SPONSORS AND SUPPORT
The exhibition was sponsored by Ausenco. Funding was provided through the Queensland Government Exhibition Indemnity Scheme, administered by Arts Queensland.
EXHIBITIONS FROM THE COLLECTION — HIGHLIGHTS
This year audiences were presented with a significant group of exhibitions, which explored and interpreted the Gallery's collections.

A highlight was 'Three Decades: The Contemporary Chinese Collection', one of three exhibitions in 'The China Project'. (See In focus: 'The China Project', facing page.)

'Recent Acquisitions: Australian, International and Asian and Pacific Collections' profiled significant new acquisitions of contemporary international art (6 September 2008 – 18 January 2009, GoMA). New photography was a feature of the display, and included large-scale works by Beat Streuli (Switzerland), Thomas Demand (Germany), and three works by influential American photographer William Eggleston. Two newly acquired sculptures were also featured: the monumental cardboard arch by Tobius Putrih (Slovenia), Connection 2004; and Work no.189 1998 by Martin Creed (England).

New acquisitions were also profiled in 'Peopled: Contemporary Art from the Collection' (13 June – 25 October 2009, GoMA), a display reflecting how artists and audiences continue to be fascinated by the human form. Paintings, sculptures, videos and installations were featured, including Ron Mueck's monumental sculpture In bed 2005; a major work, People walking. Coloured 2008, by Julian Opie, one of the leading British artists of his generation; and a new work by Australian artist David Griggs, Frog boy's dissertation into a new karaoke cult 2008.

A selection from the Gallery's important Fluxus collection, including works by Robert Watts, George Brecht, Joe Jones and Philip Corner, was shown in the GoMA Foyer cabinets. Italian collector and publisher Francesco Conz gifted more than 180 works to the Gallery in 1995 and 1997, forming the most comprehensive collection of Fluxus art in Australia.

'Namatjira to Now' (18 October 2008 – 15 February 2009, QAG) celebrated what is possibly Aboriginal Australia’s longest continuing contemporary art movement — the Hermannsburg School. This exhibition examined the school’s continuing legacy, from early work by Albert Namatjira to large acrylic paintings by contemporary artists created in the spirit of the original movement. The exhibition showed more than 100 works from the Collection, with an additional loan from the National Gallery of Australia and ten watercolours by Otto Pareroutjja from a local collection. Photographs and books from the Research Library’s Wallent Collection were also shown. A selection of the exhibited works began touring regional Queensland venues.

Another important display of Indigenous Australian art was 'Breaking Boundaries: Contemporary Indigenous Art from the Collection' (13 December 2008 – 26 July 2009, GoMA). The exhibition included new and proposed acquisitions and featured many works by Indigenous Queensland artists, recognising their achievements in the year of Queensland's 150th anniversary.

One of the exhibitions to celebrate Queensland’s sesquicentenary was ‘150 Years: Photography in Queensland from the Gallery Collection’ (20 June – 4 October 2009, Xstrata Coal Queensland Artists’ Gallery, QAG), which explored the Gallery's holdings of photographs made since the state was formed in 1859. The exhibition reflected various approaches and styles, and included well-known photographers such as nineteenth-century pioneer photographer Richard Daintree and modernist Max Dupain, and a snapshot of contemporary photography in Queensland today.

Another aspect of Queensland’s history was explored in ‘Light and Space: Colonial Art in Queensland’ (28 June – 19 October 2008, Xstrata Coal Queensland Artists’ Gallery, QAG). This display examined how European visual art in Queensland began with the work of exploration artists such as William Westall, who accompanied Matthew Flinders on his circumnavigation of Australia from 1801 to 1803. The display also included JA Clarke’s Panorama of Brisbane 1880, on loan from the Queensland Museum.
QUEENSLAND ART GALLERY FOUNDATION

In its 30th anniversary year, the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation continued to support the development of the Gallery’s Collection and the presentation of the exhibition program. Over the past 30 years, more than 4000 art works have been acquired through donations, gifts and bequests.

Many generous donations were received this year, including exceptional support from Foundation President Tim Fairfax, AM, and Gina Fairfax, and from Philip Bacon, AM. In recognition of this generosity, Anna Bligh, MP, Premier of Queensland, announced in March 2009 that Gallery 1.1 at GoMA would be named The Fairfax Gallery. Later in the year, the Premier also announced that Galleries 7, 8 and 9 at QAG would be named Philip Bacon Galleries. Significant contributions through the Foundation were also made this year by Professor John Hay, AC, and Barbara Hay, James C Sourris; Valmai Pidgeon, AM, Win Schubert, Henry Bartlett, CMSG, OBE, the Tim Fairfax Family Foundation, Professor Lawrence Hirst, Dr Geoffrey Hirst, David Baker, Dr Jann Marshall, Scott Redford, Dr Robert Piaggio, Patrick Corrigan, AM, and Barbara Corrigan, Lawrence Davs, Dr Morris Low, Greg Woolley, Margaret Mittelheuser, AM, Cathryn Mittelheuser, AM, and Marion and Tom Sharman.

A dinner to mark the Foundation’s 30th anniversary was held on Thursday 28 May 2009; 120 members and guests previewed ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’. Guest speakers at the dinner included the Foundation’s Patron, Her Excellency, Ms Penelope Wensley, AO, Governor of Queensland; Philip Bacon, AM; and Dr H Barbara Weinberg, curator of ‘American Impressionism and Realism’ and the Alice Pratt Brown Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

The Queensland Art Gallery Foundation 30th Anniversary Appeal was launched at the anniversary dinner, and as at 30 June $155,200 had been raised. The appeal funds enabled the acquisition of the sterling silver Presentation vase 1864 by the London silversmiths Hunt and Roskell. Additional funds raised through the appeal will assist the Gallery with the ongoing work of developing the Collection. The Presentation vase will be a major focus of a new display of colonial art at the Queensland Art Gallery.

The Gallery also acquired a number of significant works through the ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ exhibition appeal, which raised $66,982.

This year, 77 new members joined the Foundation.

For full details of the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation operations and activities, please refer to the Foundation Year in Review.
COLLECTION CONSERVATION AND MANAGEMENT

The Conservation section continued its key role in the preventive conservation and treatment of the Gallery’s Collection, completing a number of projects in preparation for exhibition, loan and regional touring programs.

Complex conservation treatments were undertaken on several Chinese paintings in the Gallery’s Collection in preparation for ‘Three Decades: The Contemporary Chinese Collection’: Gu Wenda and Guo Zhonglian’s Night ambush c.1985, Gu Wenda’s Lay down your arms (jiao qiang bus ha) 1985, Ah Xian’s Heavy wounds series no.10 1991, and Guan Wei’s Wo yu (Kneeling fish) 1986.

Conservators and conservation technicians worked on the preparation of more than 300 art works for the exhibition 'Floating Life: Contemporary Aboriginal Fibre Art’, opening in August 2009. This involved the design and fitting of 200 custom mounts constructed by the Gallery’s workshop team. Mounts for Yvonne Koolmatrie’s Hot-air balloon 2006 and Biplane 2006 were specially designed to act as hidden internal structures that would provide long-term support to the woven fibre sculptures.

Several John Russell paintings from the Gallery’s Australian art collection were conserved and reframed in preparation for ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’. The treatment to remove varnish layers and clean the surface of Amandiers et ruines, Sicile 1887 revealed a petal imbedded in the paint layer. The petal is thought to be that of an almond flower, and is evidence that the painting may well have been painted en plein air.

CENTRE FOR CONTEMPORARY ART CONSERVATION (CCAC)

The Gallery has continued its commitment as a partner in the Australian Research Council’s funded research project ‘The twentieth century in paint’. As part of the project, the Gallery, in conjunction with the University of Queensland, has secured the PhD placement of Gillian Osmond, Paintings Conservator. Her research topic will be ‘Deterioration processes of modern artists: Oil paints and implications for the conservation of twentieth-century paintings’.

The CCAC hosted two intensive workshops on New Methods for Cleaning Painted Surfaces, instructed by Associate Professor Richard Wolbers from the Art Conservation Department of the University of Delaware/Winterthur Museum. These workshops were attended by local, interstate and international conservators.

CCAC conservation internships were undertaken by Helen Gill, University of Melbourne paintings conservation student; Sanguoansinh Phrasavat, Ecoles de Condé paper conservation student, Paris, France; and Marie Stewart, University of Delaware/Winterthur Museum objects conservation student, Delaware, United States.

DOCUMENTING AND MANAGING THE COLLECTION

Some 154 objects were lent from the Collection to regional, national and international galleries for exhibition purposes. Selected loans included:

- Bharti Kher’s The skin speaks a language not its own 2006 to the Mori Art Museum, Tokyo, for the ‘Chalo! India: A New Era of Indian Art’ exhibition at that venue (22 November 2008 – 15 March 2009) and the National Museum of Contemporary Art, Seoul (17 April – 7 June 2009)
- Dinh Q Le’s The farmers and the helicopters 2006 to the Freer Gallery of Art and Arthur M Sackler Gallery for the ‘Moving Perspectives: Lida Abdul and Dinh Q Le’ exhibition (6 December 2008 – 1 March 2009)
- Edgar Degas’s La danseuse (The dancer) c.1882–95, cast c.1919–21 and Trois danseuses à la classe de danse (Three dancers at a dancing class) c.1888–90 to the National Gallery of Australia for the ‘Degas: Master of French Art’ exhibition (12 December 2008 – 22 March 2009)
- Lee Ufan’s From point 1979, With Winds 1990 and Correspondance 2001 to the Art Gallery of New South Wales for the ‘Korean Dreams: paintings and screens from the Joseon Dynasty’ exhibition (5 March – 8 June 2009)
- Willem De Kooning’s Two trees on Mary Street... Amen! 1975 to the Art Gallery of New South Wales for the ‘Intensely Dutch’ exhibition (5 June – 18 August 2009).

A total of 227 objects were on loan to Queensland Government offices as at 30 June 2009.

Incoming loans totalled 1104 objects and included works from:

- The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, for ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’
- collections in Australia, the United States and China for ‘The China Project’
- The Shanghai Museum, with the final group of 20 objects for the historical Asian art display

A total of 401 objects, for consideration for acquisition, were received from American Samoa, Australia, Belgium, Cambodia, China, Denmark, England, France, India, Italy, Germany, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand, Slovenia, Switzerland, Thailand and the United States.
ACCESSIBILITY AND EDUCATION

EDUCATION AND PUBLIC PROGRAMS
Developed by the Access, Education and Regional Services department, the Gallery’s regular public programs included lectures, tours and talks, in-conversation programs, seminars and performances, all directly linked to the Gallery exhibitions and Collection displays. The New Wave program offered events specifically for tertiary students and young people. Up Late programs were offered during selected major exhibitions.

NEW INITIATIVE – MY GEN
My Gen, a new public program initiative for people over 50, was launched in June 2009. The programs include talks with curators, film club sessions, and specially designed programs providing insights into different areas of the Gallery.

EXHIBITIONS AND AUDIENCES — PUBLIC PROGRAMS FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES
A range of ongoing public programs for children and families included the popular and continuing programs — Toddler Tuesday, Sunday at the Gallery and Tours for Kids. Toddler Tuesday introduces young children to works in the Gallery’s Collection and it continued to attract high participation rates. The Sunday at the Gallery program — workshops presented by local artists — provided opportunities for young visitors to engage with contemporary art. Tours for Kids continued to focus on special exhibitions and the Gallery’s Collection; interactive elements, such as sound clues and visual props, are used to enhance young visitors’ engagement with art works and themes.

EXHIBITIONS AND PROGRAMS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AND TEACHERS
CREATIVE GENERATION AWARDS
The 2009 ‘Creative Generation Excellence Awards in Visual Art and Design’ exhibition, organised by the Department of Education, Training and the Arts, was presented at GoMA (13 March – 17 May 2009) and featured 40 works chosen from 500 entries. 4310 students from 131 groups visited the exhibition. An online education resource was produced by Gallery education staff to support student engagement.

As an initiative to celebrate National Youth Week (5–13 April 2008) and engage members of the public with young artists, five of the artists in the exhibition were invited to present floor talks. School groups and members of the public attended.

LOOK OUT TEACHER PROGRAM

PROGRAMS OF ASSISTANCE
THE MELVILLE HAYSOM MEMORIAL ART SCHOLARSHIP
The 2009 Melville Haysom Memorial Art Scholarship was awarded to Alice Lang, a Visual Arts graduate from the Queensland University of Technology. The scholarship is awarded annually to an emerging Queensland artist under the age of 25, in memory of Mrs Yvonne Haysom’s late husband, the artist Melville Haysom. The scholarship provides financial support and access to the Gallery’s resources, assisting the recipient to complete a specific body of work.

HOBDAY AND HINGSTON BURSARY
Danielle Clej, an Honours graduate in Visual Arts from the Queensland University of Technology, was awarded the Hobday and Hingston Bursary for 2008. Clej is currently undertaking her PhD. The Hobday and Hingston Bursary is awarded annually to the most promising undergraduate from a Queensland tertiary art course. Each recipient receives financial support towards their continued development as an artist.

GALLERY MEMBERS
In September 2008, the Friends of the Queensland Art Gallery was renamed Gallery Members, offering a range of new programs and benefits. As at 30 June 2009, there were 5159 members. New membership initiatives included exhibition previews, special access to advance ticket sales for events such as My Gen public programs and Up Late, and exclusive access to the Insights talks program during Up Late.

New programs that reflect the diversity of the membership include First Look — New to the Collection (monthly talks focusing on the Gallery’s new acquisitions); Art in the Afternoon (tours and workshops for young members); Movies for Members, a free Australian Cinémathèque program; and a book club program, the first of which focused on novels reflecting some of the themes in ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’.
REGIONAL PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

The Regional Services 2008–09 program was the largest to date, with five travelling exhibitions and four public programs reflecting the Gallery’s commitment to servicing regional Queensland as part of its core business. See the Statistical Summary, page 67, for attendance details.

Regional travelling exhibitions and programs presented by the Gallery during 2008–09 included:

‘MAKING IT MODERN: THE WATERCOLOURS OF KENNETH MACQUEEN’

After the major retrospective at the Queensland Art Gallery, ‘Making it Modern’, an exhibition of Kenneth Macqueen’s (1897–1960) watercolours, travelled to Artspace Mackay and Toowoomba Regional Art Gallery. The exhibition catalogue was also available to regional gallery visitors.

Exhibition sponsor Leighton Contractors Pty Ltd also sponsored the regional tour of ‘Making it Modern: The Watercolours of Kenneth Macqueen’.

‘OLAFUR ELIASSON’S THE CUBIC STRUCTURAL EVOLUTION PROJECT’

The cubic structural evolution project travelled to the final seven of twelve venues on its popular tour of regional Queensland. The work, which comprises 300 kilograms of white Lego blocks, invited audiences to participate in the construction of an ever-evolving metropolis. The interactive art work from the Gallery’s Collection is by internationally acclaimed contemporary Danish artist Olafur Eliasson. Venues were provided with a free ten-page brochure for visitors.

‘MYTH TO MODERN: BRONZES FROM THE QUEENSLAND ART GALLERY COLLECTION’

‘Myth to Modern: Bronzes from the Queensland Art Gallery Collection’ toured to six regional galleries. The exhibition features works from the Gallery’s international and Australian collections, including artists such as Paul Gauguin, Henry Moore and Daphne Mayo. The 13-venue travelling exhibition began its tour in 2007, and concludes in July 2009.

‘FRAME BY FRAME: ASIA PACIFIC ARTISTS ON TOUR’

‘Frame by Frame: Asia Pacific Artists on Tour’ travelled to four galleries, visiting Mackay, Hervey Bay, Townsville and the Gold Coast. ‘Frame by Frame’ showcases a broad cross-section of works by artists working in the mediums of photography and moving image from across the Gallery’s contemporary Asian, Pacific and Australian collections. It includes many acquisitions from APT5 (2006). A colour brochure is available to exhibition visitors. The tour concludes in January 2010.

‘FRAME BY FRAME: ASIA PACIFIC ARTISTS ON TOUR’ is a regional program of the Queensland Art Gallery’s Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art, which is supported by the Visual Arts and Craft Strategy, an initiative of the Australian, state and territory governments, administered by Arts Queensland.

‘NAMATJIRA TO NOW’

After showing at the Queensland Art Gallery (18 October 2008 – 15 February 2009), a selection of works from ‘Namatjira to Now’ began a regional Queensland tour. The travelling exhibition opened at the Stanthorpe Regional Art Gallery, the first of ten venues, on 29 May 2009. The exhibition highlights work by Indigenous Australian artists from the Hermannsburg School and includes watercolours (from the original and subsequent generations), ceramics and acrylic paintings on canvas.

‘PICASSO & HIS COLLECTION’ LECTURE TOUR

A lecture tour relating to the exhibition ‘Picasso & his collection’ was completed during 2008–09, visiting 21 of 25 venues. This was the first lecture tour associated with one of the Gallery’s major international exhibitions to visit regional Queensland venues.

‘THE PREMIER OF QUEENSLAND’S NATIONAL NEW MEDIA ART AWARD’. SEVENTEEN UNSUNG SONGS

As part of ‘The Premier of Queensland’s National New Media Art Award’, an online event was held at three regional Queensland galleries on 7 February 2009. Galleries explored the new media work Seventeen unsung songs 2007 by Melbourne-based artist Adam Nash. Located on an island within the popular MUVE (multi-user visual environment) known as ‘Second Life’, the work comprises 17 inter-related interactive sound sculptures. Participating venues included Dogwood Crossing @ Miles, KickArts Cairns and the Gympie Regional Art Gallery.

THE MET REGIONAL LECTURE TOUR

A lecture program relating to the exhibition ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’ travelled to 15 of 21 venues during 2008–09. Regional Queensland audiences had a special introduction to the exhibition, showing at the Queensland Art Gallery from 30 May to 20 September 2009. The illustrated lectures offered regional audiences the opportunity to learn more about the world-exclusive exhibition from The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

KIDS: CONTEMPORARY AUSTRALIA ON TOUR

As part of the annual Summer Festival for children and families, free activities were held at 30 participating regional Queensland venues on 17 January 2009. Kids: Contemporary Australia on Tour featured eight activities, developed by artists from the ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’ exhibition, and 3908 people participated.

BACKSTAGE PASS: QUEENSLAND ART GALLERY REGIONAL INTERNSHIPS

Samantha Creyton, Curator at KickArts contemporary art space in Cairns, was awarded a Backstage Pass: Queensland Art Gallery regional internship from 16 to 28 March 2009. During the placement, Samantha worked closely with the exhibitions and installation team, on preparations for ‘The China Project’ at GoMA.
CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE

The Children’s Art Centre developed and presented a diverse range of high-quality programming, artist projects and interactive displays. The Children’s Art Centre is sponsored by Santos.

PICASSO & HIS COLLECTION
(9 JUNE – 14 SEPTEMBER 2008, GoMA)

For this exhibition, the Children’s Art Centre programming targeted young audiences aged 13–25. A Contemporary Media Lounge introduced young people to contemporary European culture via live-streamed television, a French DJ interactive, videos, and a range of print media from art journals to daily newspapers. In addition, the I ♥ Art History program was developed to engage secondary school students with key exhibition themes, through illustrated talks by artists, academics and Gallery curators. For younger audiences aged up to 12 years, Yo Picasso Kids presented hands-on activities developed to engage children in Picasso’s innovative ideas and his passion for collecting.

KIDS: CONTEMPORARY AUSTRALIA
(15 NOVEMBER – 22 FEBRUARY 2009, GoMA)

Kids: Contemporary Australia was presented during the exhibition ‘Contemporary Australia: Optimism’. Eleven interactives were developed by exhibiting artists, including Emily Floyd, Gemma Smith, Michael Zavros, Tony Albert, Gabrielle de Vietri, Thomas Meadowcroft, Sean Cordeiro and Claire Healy, Kathy Temin, Michael Leunig, Robert MacPherson and Arlene TextaQueen. The Gallery also presented its annual Summer Festival for children and families, from 16 to 26 January 2009, in conjunction with the exhibition. The 11-day festival featured artist workshops, performances, cinema programs and special events at QAG and GoMA. It was attended by 50,110 visitors.

THE CHINA PROJECT (28 MARCH – 19 JULY 2009, GoMA)

Two artist projects for children were developed for ‘The China Project’. Australia now, by artist William Yang, invited children to draw their self-portraits, tell their stories and discover their animal sign on the Chinese zodiac. In Song Dong’s Writing with water interactive, children took part in a version of the artist’s water diary practice by writing or drawing on large rocks, with water and traditional Chinese calligraphy brushes.

RELEASE THE BATS (11 APRIL – 11 OCTOBER 2009, GoMA)

Release the bats was a large-scale installation created for children by Queensland artist Anne Wallace. Occupying the Park Level of the Children’s Art Centre, the installation featured films and murals created by the artist especially for the exhibition, as well as a range of art-making activities, giving children ways of seeing Queensland, the ‘sunshine state’, in a different light. Release the bats was part of the Gallery’s contribution to a series of exhibitions in 2009 to celebrate Queensland’s sesquicentenary.

THE MET FOR KIDS (30 MAY – 20 SEPTEMBER 2009, QAG)

For the exhibition ‘American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met’, the Children’s Art Centre developed interpretative materials for children: a downloadable audio guide tour highlighting key works in the exhibition, an art activity trail and children’s labels.

The Met for Kids interactive space highlighted the exhibition themes of leisure and entertainment. Featuring graphics of New York’s Coney Island amusement park, children explored and learnt through a range of interactions. The Met for Kids included drawing activities; screenings of popular animations from the era; and the opportunity to read about the artists, inventions and historical facts of the era in the wall-to-wall illustrated timeline.

CHILDREN’S ART CENTRE CONFERENCE

To celebrate a decade of programming for young audiences, the Gallery presented the two-day conference Art is for Everyone: Programming for Children and Families in the Art Museum on 16 and 17 January 2009. Eighty-nine delegates and speakers attended the conference, including staff from local, regional, interstate and international art museums; government departments; and educational institutions.

The conference featured the keynote presentations ‘Contemporary Art for Contemporary Kids’ by Andrew Clark (Deputy Director, Programming and Corporate Services) and ‘The Art of the Story: Writing for Kids’ by Lynne Seear (Deputy Director, Curatorial and Collection Development).

Parallel workshop presentations by Gallery staff focused on the Gallery’s ongoing programs for children and families, such as Toddler Tuesday, Sunday at the Gallery, Tours for Kids, and the Summer Festival on Tour regional program; curriculum programs for students and teachers; and designing exhibitions for children and families. Focus sessions considered APTS (2006) children’s projects and included a discussion with artists who created projects for Kids: Contemporary Australia.
ENGAGEMENT WITH THE ASIA PACIFIC REGION

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT — ASIAN AND PACIFIC ART ACQUISITION HIGHLIGHTS

The Gallery’s holdings of Asian and Pacific art were strengthened by the acquisition of important contemporary and historical works across the mediums of sculpture, installation and works on paper.

CONTEMPORARY ASIAN ART

The Contemporary Asian Art department directed its collection strategy towards two major exhibition projects — ‘The China Project’ and ‘The 6th Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art’ (APT6). Both exhibitions have enabled the Collection to strengthen holdings in key areas and to fulfil the commitment outlined in the Acquisitions 2005–08 development plan, to collect contemporary Asian art post 1970 from South Asia, South-East Asia, East Asia and the diasporas with a special emphasis on outstanding art works produced post 1990.

For ‘The China Project’, a group of major works was acquired, in particular to strengthen the Collection’s narrative of the development of the Chinese avant-garde. A portfolio of nine photographs by photojournalist Li Zhensheng, taken during the Cultural Revolution (1966–76), forms a historical background for the artistic movements that were to follow. Lotus with birds 1984, an elegant ink-and-wash painting by the renowned artist Huang Yongyu, references the Cultural Revolution’s impact on traditional Chinese arts and artists. Gifted by the late Professor Hugh Dunn, the work features a winking bird, a reference to Dunn’s painting The day before I went away 2008 extends to comment on the growth of an increasingly consumerist society, both within and outside China.

APT6 has enabled a number of significant works to enter the Collection. The largest Triennial to date, APT6 will feature artists from a wider geographical region than ever before, an expansiveness that is reflected in key acquisitions.

A major suite of paintings by Cambodia’s most respected senior artist, Svay Ken (1933–2008), was acquired — the first works by a Cambodian artist in the Collection. Self-taught, Svay Ken was unique in his unadorned representations of everyday Cambodian life. Six paintings from the artist’s final series, ‘Sharing knowledge’, were selected, featuring images and Buddhist texts written in Khmer that offer advice and guidance for younger generations of Cambodians.

Building upon the Gallery’s strong holdings of Thai contemporary art, a key photographic series by Thailand’s leading photographer, Manit Sriwanichpoom, has been acquired for APT6. Comprising 14 black-and-white photographs, Waiting for the King 2006 depicts a Bangkok crowd awaiting the King of Thailand’s cavalcade during the celebrations for his 60 years on the throne.

The Gallery also acquired a set of 15 Chinese ink paintings by Singaporean artist Tang Da Wu. The works are from the ‘Bumiputra’ series (Malay for ‘son of the soil’ or original inhabitant). Their acquisition substantially extends the small selection of works in the contemporary Asian collection by artists from Singapore. ‘Bumiputra’ encapsulates the artist’s concerns which, over the past three decades, have consistently addressed social and environmental issues, including deforestation and urban transformation.

Each bust features on its crown a found object drawn from Chinese mythology and religion, a playful meditation on individual beliefs, hopes and desires. This acquisition expands what is already the most extensive collection of Ah Xian’s work in Australia.

Xu Zhen’s ShanghART Supermarket (Australia) 2007–08 was also acquired. This installation, a meticulously reconstructed Chinese supermarket, was presented in ‘The China Project’. It makes an incisive and humorous comment on the growth of an increasingly consumerist society, both within and outside China.

To strengthen the Gallery’s ties with the Asia Pacific region through initiatives such as the Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art and the Australian Centre of Asian Pacific Art, as well as the development of the Gallery’s renowned contemporary Asian and Pacific collections.
CONTEMPORARY PACIFIC ART

A number of works, across various mediums, were acquired for the Contemporary Pacific Art collection in the lead-up to the touring exhibition ‘Unnerved: Contemporary New Zealand Art’, to be held in 2010. These ranged from emerging New Zealand artists whose works have never been collected by public institutions, like Campbell Patterson’s videos and Lorene Taurerewa’s drawings, to the cut-out aluminium work by senior artist Richard Killeen. The collection was also augmented by acquisitions from the 10th Pacific Arts Festival held in American Samoa, including a selection of stunning Papua New Guinean baskets and jewellery.

The Gallery acquired a magnificent collection of sculptures from the island of Ambrym in Vanuatu, which included a significant gift by David Baker. These represent one of the most important art forms in Vanuatu and include Mague rite figures and Temar sculptures. Powerful, bold and expressive of a rich artistic tradition, the sculptures play an important role in the contemporary articulation of kastom (customary government, law and religion) in Vanuatu. This important group of works is an early acquisition for APT6, and demonstrates the Gallery’s innovative collecting and curatorial practice.

ASIAN ART PRE 1970

The development of this Collection area has gathered momentum due to a long-term loans program coming to an end in December 2009. As part of the opening celebrations for GoMA in late 2006, the Gallery committed to a three-year program of loans and exchanges with key institutions including the Idemitsu Museum of Arts in Japan, the Shanghai Museum in China, the National Museum of Korea, and the Smithsonian Institution’s Arthur M Sackler Gallery in Washington DC. With this three-year program soon to finish, the Gallery has begun to develop a strategic acquisitions program in pre modern Asian art to ensure cohesion and depth for future rotations. The first major group of additions are of Japanese and Chinese art. The acquisitions build on existing collection strengths and give due consideration to aspects of the contemporary Asian art collection.

JAPANESE ART

Acquisitions in this area included screens, a scroll painting, calligraphy and early Jōmon and Yayoi vessels. These holdings have begun establish an important basis for the continued development of Japanese art in the Collection. The acquisitions include three screens, which will be a focus for future displays of Japanese art around themes including bijin-ga (beauties), Japanese literature, the four seasons, and kazari (decoration). One of the screens was Kano Yasunobu’s Pair of six fold screens: Birds and flowers of the four seasons 17th century (Edo period). The Kano school was the most powerful and influential of Japan’s painting schools; its dominance over artistic production and aesthetic tastes in Japan lasted for more than 300 years, an unprecedented accomplishment in world art history.

Four superb vessels were acquired, representing early Japanese period wares; two are from the Jōmon period and two from Yayoi cultures. Also added to the Asian art collection was a rare Japanese lacquer Ewer (yuto) from the Muromachi period (15th–16th century). This work builds a developing focus on vessels — as both functional and ceremonial objects — within the historical Asian collection.

Calligraphy is a new and important collection focus being developed, with the first acquisitions focusing on early twentieth century Japanese zenga (Zen calligraphy). These include four hanging scrolls and a ceramic bowl. Calligraphy is considered the most important and sophisticated aesthetic expression in East Asian arts.

CHINESE NEOLITHIC WARES

An earlier gift of two Chinese Neolithic jars offered the Gallery the opportunity to develop a new collection direction. This year five painted and unpainted wares were acquired in a variety of shapes and pattern types, and from a range of phases. China’s Neolithic period lasted from approximately 10 000 to 2000 BCE. To date, more than 7000 Neolithic sites have been discovered and the archaeological evidence suggests that China’s Neolithic period was characterised by cultural diversity across a number of regions.
AUSTRALIAN CENTRE OF ASIA PACIFIC ART (ACAPA)

This year, ACAPA partnered with the Australia Council for the Arts and Dr Caroline Turner, AM, to support the visit to Australia of London-based independent curator and writer Rose Issa. Issa’s residency in Brisbane provided an important platform for critical engagement in the contemporary art and film of Iran and the Arab world, in the lead-up to the inclusion of work from this region in APT6. While in Brisbane, Issa delivered a public lecture as part of the Perspectives: Asia lecture series.

Five lectures were presented in the Perspectives: Asia lecture series, developed and presented by ACAPA and Griffith University’s Griffith Asia Institute:

- ‘Swamped by Asians — Asian Immigrants, Cuisine and Culture in Post-multicultural Australia’, presented by Pauline Nguyen, author and restaurateur
- ‘China: The Next Chapter — Assessing the Options as China Moves on from its Olympic Gold Rush to Reflect on the 30th Anniversary of Deng Xiaoping’s Kai Fang Era — Opening and Reform’, presented by Rowan Callick, China correspondent, The Australian
- ‘The Fabric of Life and Art: Contemporary Representations from Iran and the Arab World’, presented by Rose Issa, independent curator, writer and producer on visual arts and films from the Middle East and North Africa
- ‘The Opening Door: Contemporary Chinese Art Since 1978’, presented by Dr Claire Roberts, Senior Curator, Asian Arts and Design, Powerhouse Museum
- ‘If China Grows: Australia’s Options in Beijing’s Century’, presented by Professor Hugh White from Strategic Studies at the Australian National University, and Visiting Fellow at the Lowy Institute.

Works from the Gallery’s Asian and Pacific collections were made accessible online, with a database available on the Gallery’s website. The Asia Pacific Collection Online project was completed with support from the Gordon Darling Foundation, and is part of a longer term project to publish the Gallery’s Collection online.

A partnership with the Brisbane branch of The Asian Art Society of Australia (TAASA) also resulted in the presentation of a lecture and seminar series including, ‘A Newly Revealed Cache of Antique Pictorial Silk Textiles from the Collection of the National Museum of Cambodia, Phnom Penh’ and an afternoon seminar on ‘Ancient Chinese Ceramics’.

In publishing this year, ACAPA supported the exhibition catalogue ‘The China Project’. (See In focus: ‘The China Project’ on page 28.)

A curatorial internship of three months, in the Gallery’s Asian and Pacific Art area, was undertaken by Yvonne Low from May to July 2009.

‘THE 6TH ASIA PACIFIC TRIENNIAL OF CONTEMPORARY ART’ (APT6)

Research and development continued this year towards APT6, which opens in December 2009. APT6 will feature more than 100 artists from over 25 countries, including some who have never exhibited in Australia and, for the first time, artists from Tibet, Iran, Turkey, North Korea (DPRK) and countries of the Mekong region such as Cambodia and Myanmar (Burma).
ORGANISATIONAL PURPOSE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

ACT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees is the governing body of the Queensland Art Gallery and draws its powers from the Queensland Art Gallery Act 1987. The object of this Act is to contribute to the cultural, social and intellectual development of all Queenslanders. The Act provides that the Board of Trustees is to consist of the number of members appointed by the Governor-in-Council. Trustees are appointed for a term of not more than three years, and are eligible for reappointment as Trustees at the expiration of their respective terms.

During the 2008–09 year, the Board met on seven occasions.

FUNCTIONS OF THE BOARD

(a) to control, manage and maintain the Art Gallery and each branch thereof and all property in the possession of the Board; and

(b) to minister to the needs of the community in any or all branches of the visual arts by:
   (i) displaying works of art; and
   (ii) promoting artistic taste and achievement through the illustration of the history and development of the visual arts; and
   (iii) promoting and providing lectures, films, broadcasts, telecasts, publications and other educational or cultural instruction or material; and
   (iv) promoting research; and
   (c) to control and manage all land and premises vested in or placed under the control of the Board; and
   (d) to restore and repair works of art in the possession of the Board; and
   (e) to frame and package, and manufacture display materials for, works of art in the possession of the Board; and
   (f) to encourage artistic achievements by artists resident in Queensland; and
   (g) to perform the functions given to the Board under another Act; and
   (h) to perform functions that are incidental, complementary or helpful to, or likely to enhance the effective and efficient performance of, the functions mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (g); and
   (i) to perform functions of the type to which paragraph (h) applies and which are given to the Board in writing by the Minister.

MINISTERIAL DIRECTIONS

The Minister for the Arts gave no directions to the Board of Trustees during the year.

POWERS OF THE BOARD

(1) For performing its functions, the Board has all the powers of an individual and may, for example:
   (a) enter into arrangements, agreements, contracts and deeds; and
   (b) acquire, hold, deal with and dispose of property; and
   (c) engage consultants; and
   (d) appoint agents and attorneys; and
   (e) charge, and fix terms, for goods, services, facilities and information supplied by it; and
   (f) do anything else necessary or desirable to be done in performing its functions.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), the Board has the powers given to it under this or another Act.

(3) The Board may exercise its powers inside and outside Queensland, including outside Australia.

(4) In this section — ‘power’ includes legal capacity.

STRATEGIC DIRECTION

VISION
Increase quality of life for all Queenslanders through enhanced access, understanding and enjoyment of the visual arts and develop Queensland’s reputation as a culturally dynamic state.

MISSION
To be the focus for the visual arts in Queensland and a dynamic and accessible art museum of international standing.

STRATEGIC DIRECTION
The following goals and strategies reflect the Gallery’s strategic direction for 2008–13.

GOALS
Two sites, one vision
To consolidate the Gallery’s profile as a two-site institution following the opening of GoMA in December 2006, while developing and promoting the strengths of each building’s curatorial and programming focus to audiences.

Cultural tourism
To strengthen the Gallery’s ties with the Asia Pacific region through initiatives such as the Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art and the Australian Centre of Asia Pacific Art, as well as the development of the Gallery’s renowned contemporary Asian and Pacific collections.

Collection development
To develop, manage and conserve the Collection to the highest art museum standards for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future users.

Accessibility and education
To provide access to exhibitions, educational services and interpretive programs of excellence to diverse audiences, with particular attention to children and young people, Indigenous Australians and regional Queenslanders.

Engagement with the Asia Pacific region
To strengthen the Gallery’s ties with the Asia Pacific region through initiatives such as the Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art and the Australian Centre of Asia Pacific Art, as well as the development of the Gallery’s renowned contemporary Asian and Pacific collections.

STRATEGIES
Two sites, one vision
• Present a dynamic program of exhibitions and events across both QAG and GoMA in order to maintain the strong attendance and profile afforded by the national and international interest in the institution since the opening of the two-site Gallery in December 2006.
• Ensure this program both highlights the distinctions as well as the continuity between historical and contemporary art and the cultural focus of each building respectively.
• Maximise, through programming of appropriate scale and ambition, the benefits and opportunities provided by the expanded and upgraded two-site infrastructure.
• Work cooperatively, where appropriate, with Queensland Cultural Centre partner institutions to ensure that the Gallery plays an important role in animating and raising the profile of the Cultural Centre as a whole.

Cultural tourism
• Present a program of major exhibitions with wide audience appeal, including those organised by the Gallery, as well as national touring exhibitions and international exhibitions exclusive to Queensland.
• Provide an economic benefit to Queensland through the presentation of major exhibitions and associated tourism.
• Expand and strengthen important partnerships and alliances between the Gallery and key national and international museums and arts touring organisations in relation to opportunities to co-organise or host major exhibitions.
• Undertake strategic marketing and collaborate with tourism sector partners to promote the Gallery and its exhibitions and programs to key local, intrastate, interstate and international audience targets.

Collection development
• Develop the Collection in accordance with the Gallery’s Acquisitions Policy.
• Present a range of exhibitions and Collection displays.
• Increase scholarly research into the Collection and the broader dissemination of research results through a variety of media, including through the Gallery’s core publishing program.
• Conduct regular reviews of Collection management and conservation practices and procedures to ensure ongoing best practice.

Accessibility and education
• Continue to develop exhibition, education and interpretive programs for people of all ages, including those presented by the Australian Cinémathèque and the Children’s Art Centre.
• Attract and develop new audiences through a range of innovative and diverse programs targeted to specific audience groups, including children and young people.
• Work with arts workers and galleries in regional Queensland to ensure that the Gallery’s services — including exhibitions, educational services, new technologies and professional development opportunities — fulfill the needs of regional Queenslanders.
• Continue the development and delivery of educational programs and services to schools, universities and the broader education sector.
• Contribute to reconciliation with Indigenous Australians through exhibitions, programs, services and consultative processes that promote Indigenous art and culture and address related issues.

Engagement with the Asia Pacific region
• Continue to present the Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art exhibition and project every three years.
• Further the research, documentation, publication, acquisition and exhibition of Asian and Pacific art conducted under the auspices of the Australian Centre of Asia Pacific Art.
• Continue to support residencies, internships and other professional development opportunities for artists, scholars and museum professionals in the field of Asian and Pacific art.
KEY CHALLENGES
The Gallery faces a number of challenges in achieving its goals and the fullest potential of its contribution to Government objectives.

These challenges include:

- Ensuring that the Gallery is adequately resourced to respond to significant growth in audiences across two sites and the associated increased demand for its programs and services through Government and corporate support.
- Continuing to secure funds for Collection building through the support of individual donors and benefactors.
- Developing and implementing, in consultation with Arts Queensland, a refurbishment program for QAG in order for the building to be able to continue to meet the current and future needs of the Gallery, and ensuring that the world-class facilities of GoMA are maintained to the highest standards.
- Successfully developing and maintaining local, regional and national audiences in an increasingly competitive leisure market and challenging economic environment.
- Continuing to be an industry leader in developing and securing international exhibitions.

CONTRIBUTING TO GOVERNMENT OBJECTIVES
The Gallery continues to pursue policies aimed at enhancing the Queensland Government’s Toward Q2 vision, in particular building a strong economy and fair, safe and caring communities.

The Gallery’s outputs are also guided by the key themes and strategies contained in Arts Queensland’s Queensland Arts Industry Sector Development Plan 2007–09, including:

- Promoting a diverse, dynamic, creative culture
- Strengthening partnerships and collaboration
- Capitalising on Queensland’s unique strengths and characteristics.

In addition, the following guiding principles contained in the Queensland Art Gallery Act 1987 complete the framework for the delivery of the Gallery’s programs and services:

- Children and young people should be supported in their appreciation of, and involvement in, the visual arts
- Content relevant to Queensland should be promoted and presented
- Capabilities for lifelong learning about the visual arts should be developed
- Respect for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures should be affirmed
- There should be responsiveness to the needs of communities in regional and outer-metropolitan areas
- Diverse audiences should be developed
- Leadership and excellence should be provided in the visual arts
- Opportunities should be developed for international collaboration and for cultural exports, especially to the Asia Pacific region.

From ‘Sharing knowledge’ series 2008
One who feeds and looks after one's parents so well that they do not have any problems will be prosperous in this world and the next world
One who is rich and has abundant food but hides delicious food for himself is subject to ruin
Leaving the meat and chewing the bone leads one to ruin
One who is rich but neither feeds nor looks after one’s parents is subject to ruin
One who is proud of his social status, who does not care for his relatives and friends and even looks down on them is subject to ruin

DIRECTOR
Mr Tony Ellwood
Tony Ellwood is the Director of the Queensland Art Gallery. Prior to taking up this position in June 2007, Tony was Deputy Director, International Art, at the National Gallery of Victoria from 1999 to 2007 and Director of the Bendigo Art Gallery from 1996 to 1999. He also worked as a Curator at the National Gallery of Victoria from 1993 to 1996, specialising in major international curatorial projects. Among several initiatives he has instituted since becoming Director of QAG is a triennial summer exhibition series exploring the art practice of “Contemporary Australia”, and a major series of historical international exhibitions, presented exclusively in Brisbane. Tony has been on numerous State and Commonwealth boards, including the Visions of Australia Committee, Museums Australia National Board, Victorian College of the Arts (Board and Academic committee), and the Art Exhibitions Australia Board. Tony was also on the selection committees for the 2005 and 2009 Venice Biennales. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from La Trobe University and a Masters Degree and Graduate Diploma in Museum Studies from Deakin University in Melbourne.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR, PROGRAMMING AND CORPORATE SERVICES
Mr Andrew Clark
Andrew Clark is the Queensland Art Gallery’s Deputy Director, Programming and Corporate Services, and a member of the Gallery’s Executive Management Team. Andrew is one of the executive staff responsible for the creative development of the Gallery’s major exhibitions, including ‘Picasso & his collection’, ‘Andy Warhol’, and the Asia Pacific Triennials of Contemporary Art. Andrew’s professional interest is programming, and since 2001 he has developed and implemented a range of innovative exhibitions, festivals and other programs for children, families and young people, including overseeing the development of the Children’s Art Centre as part of the Gallery of Modern Art. He was responsible for commissioning Stephen Page’s acclaimed production Kin for APTs, and most recently has led the development of the highly successful “Up Late” Friday night program at GoMA.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR, CURATORIAL AND COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT
Ms Lynne Seear
Lynne Seear is the Queensland Art Gallery’s Deputy Director, Curatorial and Collection Development, and a member of the Gallery’s Executive Management Team. Lynne is responsible for the Gallery’s Collection development program including the acquisition of art works by purchase and gift. Lynne is one of the executive staff responsible for the creative and curatorial development of the Gallery’s major exhibitions, including the Asia Pacific Triennials of Contemporary Art and “Andy Warhol”. Lynne has extensive experience in publishing and has overseen the development and publication of several major books and exhibition catalogues, including Brought to Light: Australian Art 1850–1965; Darkness and Light: the Art of William Robinson; Brought to Light II: Australia Art 1966–2006; The 5th Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art; Andy Warhol; Picasso & his collection; Contemporary Australia: Optimism and American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met.

MARKETING AND SPONSORSHIP MANAGER
Ms Celestine Doyle
Celestine Doyle is the Queensland Art Gallery’s Marketing and Sponsorship Manager and a member of the Gallery’s Executive Management Team. Celestine leads the audience-focused marketing, communication, sponsorship and tourism strategies for the Queensland Art Gallery and Gallery of Modern Art. Recent campaigns include the “The 5th Asia Pacific Triennial of Contemporary Art” (2006), “Andy Warhol” (2007), “Picasso & his collection” (2008) and “American Impressionism and Realism: A Landmark Exhibition from the Met” (2009). Celestine returned to the Queensland Art Gallery as Head of Marketing and Communication in 2003 after managing her own specialist arts marketing and communication practice. She had previously been the Gallery’s Promotions Officer from 1987 to 1996 and held positions with Environmental Protection Agency, National Gallery of Victoria, Melbourne and Brisbane’s Mater Public Hospitals.

EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT TEAM
The Executive Management Team provides strategic direction and manages the Gallery’s operations and programs.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

ETHICS AND CODE OF CONDUCT
The Gallery’s Code of Conduct is based on the ethics, principles and obligations outlined in the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994 and was reviewed following consultation with all staff in 2008. New employees receive the Code of Conduct as part of their commencement kit and the Code is available to all staff on the Gallery’s intranet. The Code applies to all paid employees as well as volunteers. Persons other than staff members can inspect the Code, free of charge, upon request at the Gallery’s Research Library, with extracts or a full copy available free of charge. Induction sessions for new staff included reference to the code.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY
Strategies to achieve the objectives contained in the Gallery’s Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Management Plan 2007–09 were implemented and monitored against target dates during the year. Key strategies achieved included:
- providing harassment/anti-discrimination training for front-of-house staff
- providing ongoing development of a QAG Referral Officer
- analysing results of the QPASS staff survey which found no evidence of discrimination or marked differences in the way staff from EEO target groups experience the work environment
- providing for two staff members to commence the Springboard Women’s Development Program
- continuing online anti-discrimination training and certification for new supervisors and managers
- ensuring access to human resource policies through the intranet and providing printed copies in the Gallery’s Research Library.

HUMAN RESOURCE ISSUES
The Gallery:
- commenced a review of its Human Resources policies
- committed to establishing its permanent staffing profile following the Gallery’s transition to a two-site organisation
- delivered various policy-based training programs, including induction training for new staff and Outside Employment Policy briefings
- continued online anti-discrimination training for supervisors
- provided a range of staff training and professional development opportunities
- conducted workshops for new supervisory staff.

AUDIT & RISK MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE
The Audit & Risk Management Committee is responsible for the Gallery’s audit and risk management process. The Committee operates according to its Charter and Terms of Reference.

The committee consists of Mr John Lobban (Trustee and Committee Chair), Professor John Hay, AC, Mr Tim Fairfax, AM, Dr Amanda Bell (Trustees) and Mr Tony Ellwood (Director). Observers include representatives of the Queensland Audit Office, Ms Jackie Branch (Executive Director, Arts Infrastructure & Services, Arts Queensland), Mr Wayne Leaver (Executive Manager, Financial Services, CAA), Mr Martin Linnane (Manager, Organisational Review, CAA), Mr Andrew Clark (Deputy Director, Programming and Corporate Services, QAG) and Ms Alison Lee (Head of Managerial Research, QAG).

The committee met on three occasions.

FINANCIAL AND OPERATIONAL PERFORMANCE SYSTEMS
The Gallery’s financial systems and their uses are as follows:
- Finance 1 is used primarily for processing financial data and obtaining reports.
- Whole-of-government financial information is reported using the Queensland Government’s Tridata system.
- The Gallery Store uses Booknet as its point-of-sale system.

Reports on operational performance against declared goals, strategies and benchmarks are prepared and presented at each meeting of the Board of Trustees. Quarterly, non-financial performance reports measured against declared targets are submitted to Arts Queensland and Queensland Treasury.

WORKPLACE HEALTH AND SAFETY
The Gallery has a Workplace Health and Safety Committee consisting of workplace health and safety representatives elected by staff, nine Workplace Health and Safety Officers and the Design Manager. The Committee met on six occasions during the year and:
- facilitated training of representatives in health and safety issues
- monitored online training for all staff
- conducted regular inspections of work areas
- responded to all reported/identified hazards.

The Gallery is also represented on the Queensland Cultural Centre’s Workplace Health and Safety Committee which met on six occasions.

WHISTLEBLOWERS PROTECTION ACT
There were no disclosures received during the reporting period.

CONSULTANCIES
During 2008–09, the Gallery did not engage any consultancy services.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES COSTS
In 2008–09, meeting fees and travel costs of Board members totalled $14 799.

VOLUNTARY REDUNDANCY
During 2008–09 one staff member accepted a voluntary redundancy package of $102 381.43.

MAJOR INVESTMENTS AND BORROWINGS
There were no major investments or borrowings during the year.

ENTITIES CONTROLLED
The Queensland Art Gallery Foundation was established in 1979 by the Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees to raise corporate and private funding to support the growth of the art collection and exhibition programs. The Gallery provides all the infrastructure support and meets all operational costs of the Foundation. For the purposes of the Financial Administration and Audit Act 1977, the Foundation is an entity controlled by the Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees.

Financial reports are prepared by the Gallery for submission to the Foundation’s Council. The Foundation produces its own annual report and its books and accounts were audited by the Queensland Audit Office.

OBJECTIVES AND PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES OF THE GALLERY

The Queensland Art Gallery’s principal activities in the course of the financial year were to deliver a broad range of outputs as detailed in its Strategic Plan 2008–13. These activities supported the following of the Government’s Outcomes and Priorities for Queensland:

- Fostering Healthy Individuals and Communities

The Gallery’s outputs are also guided by the key themes and strategies contained in Arts Queensland’s Queensland Arts Industry Sector Development Plan 2007–2009, including:

- Promoting a diverse, dynamic, creative culture
- Strengthening partnerships and collaboration
- Capitalising on Queensland’s unique strengths and characteristics

In addition, the following guiding principles contained in the Queensland Art Gallery Act 1987 complete the framework for the delivery of the Gallery’s programs and services:

- Children and young people should be supported in their appreciation of, and involvement in, the visual arts
- Content relevant to Queensland should be promoted and presented
- Capabilities for lifelong learning about the visual arts should be developed
- Respect for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures should be affirmed
- There should be responsiveness to the needs of communities in regional and outer metropolitan areas
- Diverse audiences should be developed
- Leadership and excellence should be provided in the visual arts
- Opportunities should be developed for international collaboration and for cultural exports, especially to the Asia–Pacific region

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards. The financial report is a general purpose financial report. In particular, the financial statements comply with the Treasurer’s Minimum Reporting Requirements for the year ending 30 June 2009, and other authoritative pronouncements. Except where stated, the historical cost convention is used.

(b) The Reporting Entity

The financial statements include the value of all revenues, expenses, assets, liabilities and equity of the Queensland Art Gallery and its controlled entity, the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation. In the process of reporting on the Queensland Art Gallery as a single economic entity, all transactions and balances between the Queensland Art Gallery and the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation have been eliminated (where material).

(c) Trust and Agency Transactions and Balances

The Gallery acts as an agent in the collection and distribution of charges and levies for public sector agencies, local governments and employees which are not recognised in the financial statements, but are disclosed in Note 27.

(d) User Charges

User charges and fees controlled by the Gallery are recognised as revenue when services are delivered and invoices for the related services are issued. User charges and fees are controlled by the Gallery where they can be deployed for the achievement of the Gallery’s objectives.
(e) Grants and Other Contributions
Grants, contributions, donations and gifts that are non-reciprocal in nature are recognised as revenue in the year in which the Gallery obtains control over them. Where grants are received that are reciprocal in nature, revenue is accrued over the term of the funding arrangement.

Contributed assets are recognised at their fair value. Contributions of services are recognised when a fair value can be determined reliably and the services would be purchased if they had not been donated.

(f) Cash and Cash Equivalents
For the purposes of the Balance Sheet and the Cash Flow Statement, cash assets include all cash and cheques received but not banked at 30 June as well as deposits at call with financial institutions. It also includes investments with short periods to maturity that are readily convertible to cash on hand at the Gallery's or issuer's option and that are subject to a low risk of changes in value.

(g) Receivables
Trade debtors are recognised at the nominal amounts due at the time of sale or service delivery. Settlement of these amounts is required within 30 days from invoice date.

The collectability of receivables is assessed periodically with provision being made for impairment. All known bad debts were written off as at 30 June.

(h) Inventories
Inventories represent stock on hand for sale through the Gallery Store operations and publications on hand for sale direct to distributors and are valued at the lower of cost or net realisable value.

Cost is assigned on a weighted average basis and includes expenditure incurred in acquiring the inventories and bringing them to their existing condition.

The cost of inventories is approximated using either the standard cost method or the retail inventory method depending on which is applicable to the condition.

(i) Non-current Assets Classified as Held for Sale
Non-current assets held for sale consist of those assets which the Gallery has determined are available for immediate sale in their present condition, and their sale is highly probable within the next twelve months.

These assets are measured at the lower of the assets’ carrying amounts or their fair values less costs to sell. The assets are not depreciated.

(j) Acquisitions of Assets
Actual cost is used for the initial recording of all non-current physical and intangible assets acquisitions. Cost is determined as the value given as consideration plus costs incidental to the acquisition, including all other costs incurred in getting the assets ready for use.

The Queensland Art Gallery Foundation purchases Art works and then donates them to the Gallery. These particular Art works are included in the total value of the Art works in the Gallery’s Balance Sheet and in the Income Statement as revenue. The balance disclosed in the financial statements reflects the fair market value of the donated assets.

Assets acquired at no cost or for nominal consideration, other than from an involuntary transfer from another Queensland Government department, are recognised at their fair value at date of acquisition in accordance with AASB 116 Property, Plant and Equipment.

(k) Property, Plant and Equipment
The Gallery’s Collection (Art Works), the Gallery Library’s Heritage Collection and all items of property, plant and equipment with a value equal to or in excess of $5,000 are recognised for financial reporting purposes.

Items of property, plant and equipment with a lesser value are expensed in the year of acquisition.

(l) Revaluation of Non-Current Physical Assets
The Gallery’s Art Works and the Gallery Library’s Heritage Collection are considered to be heritage and cultural assets and are measured at fair value in accordance with AASB 116 Property, Plant and Equipment and Queensland Treasury’s Non-Current Asset Accounting Policies for the Queensland Public Sector.

The Gallery’s Art Works, including gifts, are revalued on an annual basis for insurance purposes by the Gallery’s experienced specialist curatorial staff who are considered experts in their field. The basis of valuation for Art Works is current market values.

Art Works that have had a material movement in valuation are revalued during the year using recent auction results. On this basis, the Art Works are comprehensively revalued each year.

The Gallery Library’s Heritage Collection is revalued at the end of the year using current prices listed on AbeBooks.com, an international portal for registered booksellers, new and second hand, to list their available stock.

Plant and equipment are measured at cost. The carrying amounts for plant and equipment at cost should not materially differ from their fair value.

Any revaluation increment arising on the revaluation of an asset is credited to the asset revaluation reserve of the appropriate class, except to the extent it reverses a revaluation decrement for the class previously recognised as an expense. A decrease in the carrying amount on revaluation is charged as an expense, to the extent it exceeds the balance, if any, in the revaluation reserve relating to that class.

Separately identified components of assets are measured on the same basis as the assets to which they relate.

(m) Depreciation of Property, Plant and Equipment
Plant and equipment is depreciated on a straight-line basis so as to allocate the net cost or revalued amount of each asset, less its estimated residual value, progressively over the estimated useful life to the Gallery.

The depreciable amount of leasehold improvements is allocated over the estimated useful life of the improvements or the unexpired period of the lease, whichever is the shorter.

The Gallery’s Art Works and the Gallery Library’s Heritage Collection are not depreciated due to the heritage and cultural nature of the assets.

Where assets have separately identifiable components that are subject to regular replacement, these components are assigned useful lives distinct from the asset to which they relate and are depreciated accordingly.

Any expenditure that increases the originally assessed capacity or service potential of an asset is capitalised and the new depreciable amount is depreciated over the remaining useful life of the asset to the Gallery.

For each class of depreciable assets, the following depreciation rates were used:

NOTES TO AND FORMING PART OF
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS 2008–09

(n) Impairment of Non-Current Assets
The Gallery is not primarily dependent on the ability of its assets to generate net cash flows and therefore, if deprived of the assets, the Gallery would replace the remaining future economic benefits. The value in use is the depreciated replacement cost of the asset.

All non-current physical and intangible assets are assessed for indicators of impairment on an annual basis. If an indicator of possible impairment exists, the agency determines the asset’s recoverable amount. Any amount by which the asset’s carrying amount exceeds the recoverable amount is recorded as an impairment loss.

The asset’s recoverable amount is determined as the higher of the asset’s fair value less costs to sell and depreciated replacement costs. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the Income Statement, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount. When an asset is measured at a revalued amount, the impairment loss is offset against the asset revaluation reserve of the relevant class to the extent available.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as income, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation increase. Refer also Note 1(i).

(o) Leases
Operating lease payments are representative of the pattern of benefits derived from the leased assets and are expensed in the periods in which they are incurred.

The Arts Legislation Amendment Act 1997 transferred the assets and liabilities of the Queensland Cultural Centre Trust (Q CCT) that was abolished in December 1997 to the State of Queensland and the Corporate Administration Agency (CAA) became the manager of the Cultural Centre precinct.

The Art Gallery Board of Trustees has a signed lease agreement with the former Q CCT for the main Art Gallery building located within the Cultural Centre precinct for which no rent is charged.

The lease has been assumed by the State of Queensland (Section 85(2) of the Act).

The provision of the building and items of fit-out, including plant and equipment, form part of this agreement.

The Gallery pays for services including building maintenance and repairs, electricity, security, cleaning, air-conditioning and telephone rental (Note 1(u)).

(p) Other Financial Assets
Current assets include investments with short periods to maturity that are readily convertible to cash on hand at the Gallery’s option and that are subject to a low risk of changes in value.

Included in the non-current assets of the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation are State Government Contributions and retained donations of $7.7M (2008: $7.8M). These funds are restricted as per an agreement with the State Government which states that only the interest derived from these funds can be used by the Foundation for the acquisitions or the exhibition program of the Gallery.

The Foundation’s other non-current investments are carried at market value. Changes in market value are recognised as a revenue or expense in determining the net result for the period.

All other non-current investments are carried at the lower of cost and recoverable amount.

Interest and dividend revenues are recognised on an accrual basis.

(q) Payables
Trade creditors are recognised upon receipt of the goods or services ordered and are measured at the agreed purchase/contract price gross of applicable trade and other discounts. Amounts owing are unsecured and are generally settled on 30 day terms.

(f) Financial Instruments
Recognition
Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised in the Balance Sheet when the Gallery becomes party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument.

Classification
Financial instruments are classified and measured as follows:

- Cash and cash equivalents – held at fair value through profit and loss
- Managed funds and shares – held at fair value through profit and loss
- Receivables – held at amortised cost
- Payables – held at amortised cost

The Gallery does not enter into transactions for speculative purposes nor for hedging.

All disclosures relating to the measurement basis and financial risk management of other financial instruments held by the Gallery are included in Note 26.

(s) Employee Benefits
Wages, Salaries, Recreation Leave and Sick leave
Wages, salaries and recreation leave due but unpaid at reporting date are recognised in the Balance Sheet at the remuneration rates expected to apply at the time of settlement.

Payroll tax, and workers’ compensation insurance are a consequence of employing employees, but are not counted in an employee’s total remuneration package. They are not employee benefits and are recognised separately as employee related expenses. Employer superannuation contributions and long service leave levies are regarded as employee benefits.

For unpaid entitlements expected to be paid within 12 months, the liabilities are recognised at their undiscounted values. For those entitlements not expected to be paid within 12 months, the liabilities are recognised at their present value, calculated using yields on Fixed Rate Commonwealth Government bonds of similar maturity.

Prior history indicates that on average, sick leave taken each reporting period is less than the entitlement accrued. This is expected to recur in future periods. Accordingly, it is unlikely that existing accumulated entitlements will be used by employees and no liability for unused sick leave entitlements is recognised.

As sick leave is non-vesting, an expense is recognised for this leave as it is taken.

Long Service Leave
Under the Queensland Government’s long service leave scheme, a levy is made on the Gallery to cover this cost. Levies are expensed in the period in which they are paid or payable. Amounts paid to employees for long service leave are claimed from the scheme as and when leave is taken.

No provision for long service leave is recognised in the financial statements, the liability being held on a whole-of-Government basis and reported in the whole-of-Government financial report prepared pursuant to AASB 1049 Whole of Government and General Government Section Financial Reporting.
Superannuation

Employer superannuation contributions are paid to QSuper, the superannuation plan for Queensland Government employees, at rates determined by the State Actuary. Contributions are expensed in the period in which they are paid or payable. The Gallery's obligation is limited to its contribution to QSuper.

Therefore, no liability is recognised for accruing superannuation benefits in these financial statements, the liability being held on a whole-of-Government basis and reported in the financial report prepared pursuant to AASB 1049 Whole of Government and General Government Section Financial Reporting.

Executive Remuneration

The executive remuneration disclosures in the employee expenses note (Note 6) in the financial statements include:

- the aggregate remuneration of all senior executive officers (including the Chief Executive Officer) whose remuneration for the financial year is $100,000 or more; and
- the number of senior executives whose total remuneration for the financial year falls within each successive $20,000 band, commencing at $100,000.

The remuneration disclosed is all remuneration received or receivable, directly or indirectly, from the entity or any related party in connection with the management of the affairs of the Gallery or any of its subsidiaries, whether as an executive or otherwise. For this purpose, remuneration includes:

- wages and salaries;
- accrued leave (that is, the increase/decrease in the amount of annual and long service leave owed to an executive, inclusive of any increase in the value of leave balances as a result of salary rate increases or the like);
- performance pay received or due and receivable in relation to the financial year, provided that a liability exists (namely a determination has been made prior to the financial statements being signed), and can be reliably measured even though the payment may not have been made during the financial year;
- accrued superannuation (being the value of all employer superannuation contributions during the financial year, both paid and payable as at 30 June);
- car parking benefits and the cost of motor vehicles, such as lease payments, fuel costs, registration/insurance, and repairs/maintenance incurred by the Gallery during the financial year, both paid and payable as at 30 June, net of any amounts subsequently reimbursed by the executives;
- allowances (which are included in remuneration agreements of executives, such as airfares or other travel costs paid to/for executives whose homes are situated in a location other than the location they work in); and
- fringe benefits tax included in remuneration agreements.

The disclosures apply to all senior executives appointed by Governor in Council and/or classified as SES1 and above, with remuneration above $100,000 in the financial year. ‘Remuneration’ means any money, consideration or benefit, but excludes amounts:

- paid to an executive by the Gallery or its subsidiary where the person worked during the financial year wholly or mainly outside Australia during the time the person was so employed; or
- in payment or reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred for the benefit of the Gallery or any of its subsidiaries.

In addition, separate disclosure of separation and redundancy/termination benefit payments is included.

Insurance

The Gallery's non-current physical assets and other risks are insured through the Queensland Government Insurance Fund, premiums being paid on a risk assessment basis. In addition, the Gallery pays premiums to Workcover Queensland in respect of its obligations for employee compensation.

Services Provided by the Corporate Administration Agency

The Corporate Administration Agency (CAA), manager of the Cultural Centre precinct, provides a number of services to the Gallery at the Queensland Cultural Centre. These services include building maintenance and repairs, electricity, security, cleaning, airconditioning and telephone rental. The cost of these services to the Queensland Art Gallery for the 2008–09 year was $4,481,855 (2007–08: $2,047,730).

The CAA also provides corporate support to the Gallery in the areas of Finance and Human Resources.

Services provided to the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation

The Gallery provides corporate support including human resources, office accommodation, computer equipment and other office requisites in an in-kind basis to facilitate the operation of the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation.

Salaries including on-costs for the staff supporting the Queensland Art Gallery Foundation plus other corporate support costs that have been met by the Gallery are recognised in the employee and supplies and services balances. The cost of these services to the Queensland Art Gallery for the 2008–09 year was $4,285,772 (2007–08: $283,079).

Taxation

The Gallery is a State body as defined under the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 and is exempt from Commonwealth taxation with the exception of Fringe Benefits Tax and Goods and Services Tax (GST). As such, GST credits receivable from/payable to the ATO are recognised and accrued. Refer Note 13.

Issuance of Financial Statements

The financial statements are authorised for issue by the Chairman and the Director at the date of signing the Management Certificate.

Judgements and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements necessarily requires the determination and use of certain critical accounting estimates, assumptions, and management judgements that have the potential to cause a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. Such estimates, judgements and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised and in future periods as relevant.

Estimates and assumptions that have a potential significant effect are outlined in the following financial statement notes:

- Valuation of Property, Plant and Equipment – Note 17.
- Contingencies - Note 25.
- Rounding and Comparatives

Amounts included in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest $1,000 or, where that amount is $500 or less, to zero unless disclosure of the full amount is specifically required.

Comparative information has been restated where necessary to be consistent with disclosures in the current reporting period.
(aa) New and Revised Accounting Standards

The Gallery did not voluntarily change any of its accounting policies during 2008–09. The significance of those new and amended Australian accounting standards that were applicable for the first time in the 2008–09 financial year and have had a significant impact on the Gallery’s financial statements are outlined below.

A review has been undertaken of revised accounting standard AASB 1004 Contributions and it is considered the financial statements adequately reflect the matters required to be disclosed, given the Gallery’s present operating circumstances.

The Gallery is not permitted to early adopt a new or amended accounting standard ahead of the specified commencement date unless approval is obtained from Treasury. Consequently, the Gallery has not applied any Australian accounting standards and interpretations that have been issued but are not yet effective. The Gallery will apply these standards and interpretations in accordance with their respective commencement dates.

At the date of authorisation of the financial report, a number of new or amended Australian accounting standards with future commencement dates will have a significant impact on the Gallery. Details of these impacts are set out below.

The Gallery will need to comply with a revised version of AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements as from 2009–10. This revised standard does not have measurement or recognition implications. However, in line with the new concept of ‘comprehensive income’ in the revised AASB 101, there will be significant changes to the presentation of the Gallery’s income and expenses that are currently presented in the Income Statement and the Statement of Changes in Equity.

Ignoring other potential impacts on the operating result, if the revised AASB 101 was applied by the Gallery for 2008–09 reporting, it would have reported comprehensive income of $19.154 million for the year. The increase in the asset revaluation reserve for 2008–09 (approximately $12.311 million) would not therefore be included in the Statement of Changes in Equity. In addition, where there have been retrospective accounting policy changes, retrospective re-statement of items in the financial statements or re-classifications of financial statement items during the current reporting period, the revised AASB 101 will require a statement of financial position to be presented as at the beginning of the earliest comparative period included in the financial statements.

A revised version of AASB 123 Borrowing Costs has been released but such revision will not impact on the Gallery.

The revised standard AASB 140 Investment Property does not apply to the Gallery as the Gallery does not control any investment properties.

All other Australian accounting standards and interpretations with future commencement dates are either not applicable to the Gallery or have no material impact on the Gallery.

(b) Financial Risk Management

The Gallery and the Foundation’s activities expose it to a variety of financial risks – interest rate risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk.

Financial risk management is implemented pursuant to Government and Art Gallery policy. These policies focus on the unpredictability of financial markets and seek to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Gallery.

Financial risk in respect of the financial assets of the Foundation is managed by the Foundation’s Investment Sub-Committee in accordance with the Fund Management Objectives and Strategies Policy approved by the Queensland Art Gallery.

The Gallery measures risk exposure using a variety of methods as follows –

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Risk Exposure</th>
<th>Measurement method</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Credit risk</td>
<td>Ageing analysis, earnings risk</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Liquidity risk</td>
<td>Sensitivity analysis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Market risk</td>
<td>Interest rate sensitivity analysis</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(c) Credit Risk Exposure

Credit risk exposure refers to the situation where the Gallery may incur financial loss as a result of another party to a financial instrument failing to discharge their obligation.

The maximum exposure to credit risk at balance date in relation to each class of recognised financial assets is the gross carrying amount of those assets inclusive of any provisions for impairment.

The following table represents the Gallery’s maximum exposure to credit risk based on contractual amounts net of any allowances:

No collateral is held as security and no credit enhancements relate to financial assets held by the Gallery.

The Gallery manages credit risk through the use of a credit management strategy. This strategy aims to reduce the exposure to credit default by ensuring that the Gallery invests in secure assets and monitors all funds owed on a timely basis. Exposure to credit risk is monitored on an ongoing basis.

No financial assets and financial liabilities have been offset and presented net in the Balance Sheet. Cash and cash equivalent investments are either held with a financial institution with a Standard and Poor’s short term credit rating of A-1+ or deposited in amounts of $1m or less with eligible institutions which are covered by the Australian Government’s Financial Claims Scheme.

The other investments are held in either managed funds or shares, which have been assessed for credit risk by the Foundation’s Investment sub-committee.

The method for calculating any provisional impairment for risk is based on past experience, current and expected changes in economic conditions and changes in client credit ratings. The main factors affecting the current calculation for provisions are disclosed below as loss events. These economic and geographic changes form part of the Gallery’s documented risk analysis assessment in conjunction with historic experience and associated industry data.

No financial assets have had their terms renegotiated so as to prevent them from being past due or impaired, and are stated at the carrying amounts as indicated. Ageing of past due but not impaired financial assets are disclosed in the following tables:

(d) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk refers to the situation where the Gallery may encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Gallery is only exposed to liquidity risk in respect of its payables.

This risk is controlled through the Gallery’s investment in financial instruments, which under normal market conditions are readily convertible to cash. The Gallery also manages exposure to liquidity risk by ensuring that sufficient funds are held to meet supplier obligations as they fall due. This is achieved by ensuring that minimum levels of cash are held within the various bank accounts so as to match the expected duration of the various supplier liabilities.

The following table sets out the liquidity risk of financial liabilities held by the Gallery. It represents the contractual maturity of financial liabilities, calculated based on cash flows relating to the repayment of the principal amount outstanding at balance date.

(e) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as foreign exchange rates, interest rates and equity prices will affect the Gallery’s income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The Foundation’s Investment Sub-Committee actively monitors investments to ensure overall exposure of the portfolio is within acceptable levels.

In respect of the managed funds and shares, the Gallery is subject to domestic and international equities market fluctuations. While the Gallery does not trade in foreign currency, it is indirectly exposed to movements in foreign exchange rates through its funds held in the international market. The Gallery is exposed to interest rate risk through its cash deposited in interest bearing accounts and managed fund investments. The Gallery does not undertake any hedging in relation to interest rate risk.

Interest Rate Sensitivity Analysis

The following interest rate sensitivity analysis is based on a report similar to that which would be provided to management, depicting the outcome to profit and loss if interest rates would change by +/-1% from the year-end rates applicable to the Gallery’s financial assets and liabilities. With all other variables held constant, the Gallery would have a surplus and equity increase/(decrease) of $105,000 (2008: $110,000). This is attributable to the Gallery’s exposure to variable interest rates on interest bearing cash deposits.

Fair Value

The fair value of financial assets and liabilities is determined as follows:

- The Gallery does not hold any available for sale financial assets.
- The carrying amount of cash, cash equivalents, receivables, and payables approximate their fair value and are not disclosed separately below.

27. AGENCY TRANSACTIONS

The Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees acts as an agent in the collection and distribution of charges and levies for public sector agencies, local governments and employees. A reconciliation of amounts collected and distributed follows.

CERTIFICATE OF THE QUEENSLAND ART GALLERY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The general purpose financial statements have been prepared pursuant to the provisions of the Financial Administration and Audit Act 1977 (the Act) and other prescribed requirements. In accordance with Section 40(3) of the Act, we certify that in our opinion:

(a) the prescribed requirements for establishing and keeping the accounts have been complied with in all material respects; and

(b) the statements have been drawn up to present a true and fair view, in accordance with prescribed accounting standards, of the transactions of the Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees for the financial year ended 30 June 2009 and of the financial position of the Gallery at the end of the financial year.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT
To Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees

MATTERS RELATING TO THE ELECTRONIC PRESENTATION OF THE AUDITED FINANCIAL REPORT
The auditor’s report relates to the financial report of Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees for the financial year ended 30 June 2009 included on Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees’ website. The Board is responsible for the integrity of Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees’ website. I have not been engaged to report on the integrity of Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees’ website. The auditor’s report refers only to the statements named below. It does not provide an opinion on any other information which may have been hyperlinked to/from these statements. If users of the financial report are concerned with the inherent risks arising from electronic data communications they are advised to refer to the hard copy of the audited financial report, available from Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees, to confirm the information included in the audited financial report presented on this website.

These matters also relate to the presentation of the audited financial report in other electronic media including CD Rom.

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL REPORT
I have audited the accompanying financial report of Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees, which comprises the balance sheet as at 30 June 2009 and the income statement, statement of changes in equity and cash flow statement for the year ended on that date, a summary of significant matters relating to the selection and application of accounting policies, other explanatory notes and certificates given by the Board of Trustees and the consolidated entity comprising the Board and the entities it controlled at the year’s end or from time to time during the financial year.

The Board’s Responsibility for the Financial Report
The Board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with prescribing accounting requirements identified in the Financial Administration and Audit Act 1977 and the Financial Management Standard 1997 including compliance with applicable Australian Accounting Standards (including the Australian Accounting Interpretations). This responsibility includes establishing and maintaining internal controls relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies; and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditor’s Responsibility
My responsibility to express an opinion on the financial report based on the audit is prescribed in the Auditor-General Act 2009. This Act, including transitional provisions, came into operation on 1 July 2009 and replaces the previous requirements contained in the Financial Administration and Audit Act 1977.

The audit was conducted in accordance with the Auditor-General of Queensland Auditing Standards, which incorporate the Australian Auditing Standards. These auditing standards require compliance with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and that the audit is planned and performed to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of risks of material misstatement in the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal controls relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control, other than in expressing an opinion on compliance with prescribed requirements. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Board, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report and any mandatory financial reporting requirements as approved by the Treasurer for application in Queensland.

I believe that the audit evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Independence
The Auditor-General Act 2009 promotes the independence of the Auditor-General and QAO authorised auditors. The Auditor-General is the auditor of all Queensland public sector entities and can only be removed by Parliament.

The Auditor-General may conduct an audit in any way considered appropriate and is not subject to direction by anyone about the way in which audit powers are to be exercised. The Auditor-General has for the purposes of conducting an audit, access to all documents and property and can report to Parliament matters which in the Auditor-General’s opinion are significant.

Auditor’s Opinion
In accordance with s.40 of the Auditor-General Act 2009 –
(a) I have received all the information and explanations which I have required; and
(b) in my opinion -
(i) the prescribed requirements in respect of the establishment and keeping of accounts have been complied with in all material respects; and
(ii) the financial report has been drawn up so as to present a true and fair view, in accordance with the prescribed accounting standards of the transactions of Queensland Art Gallery Board of Trustees and the consolidated entity for the financial year 1 July 2008 to 30 June 2009 and of the financial position as at the end of that year.
